Ching Rips Labor Mediation Transfer In T-H Repeal Bill

Proposes Larger Reservoir

BeVier Wants Capacity Doubled

A recommendation that the capacity of the Woodland reservoir be increased from six to 12 million gallons at an estimated cost of $300,000 was made by B. V. BeVier, city sanitary eigineer in his annual report released today.

When originally built in 1937, the reservoir was planned to hold 12 million gallons, but financial limitations forced the reduction in size.

BeVier explained that the peak summer demand is in excess of the present capacity of the reservoir and that potential capacity and demand (when the Clear Fork project is completed) will be 10 million gallons a day.

"The reservoir should have a capacity of 12 million gallons to provide a one day reserve supply plus additional water for fire service," the engineer wrote.

He pointed out that the capacity of the present reservoir located at the southwest edge of the city is equal to the daily demand, and water is flowing out of the reservoir as fast as it is flowing into it.

24-HOUR SUPPLY

In case of a pump breakdown or a power failure, the reservoir would be emptied in 24 hours or less, depending upon the season, BeVier said.

He added that if a big fire should break out at the same time, the results might be disastrous.

If the reservoir should become two-thirds empty, as it did a year ago when a water line broke, residents of the Woodland area would be deprived of water—because the intake tube for the water tank that supplies the area is at the six-foot level.

If an addition to the reservoir is approved, it would be built adjacent to the present reservoir, following the original plans.

BeVier's report revealed that:

The water department pumped 2,054,486,085 gallons of water in 1948, of which 748,907,085 were unpaid for because of faulty meters and leaks.

In terms of dollars and cents, the loss of 36 3 per cent of all water pumped cost the city about $175,600 in revenue, based on the average price paid by consumers for the water.

Sheriff Overruled

CANTON — (AP) — Stark County Sheriff Harry W grossglaus' motion to deny former Sheriff Richard France a new trial in the much-disputed recount of last November's election ballots has been overruled by the Fifth District Court of Appeals.

Ex-PW's Confront Axis Sal

WASHINGTON — (UP) — Two former prisoners of war were called today to tell a federal court jury about their radio interview with Mildred E. Gillars on her "Axis Sally" broadcast.

The scheduled government witnesses are Grover Cleveland McKinnery, former army captain now a student at the University of Denver, and Harvey Crosthwaite of Hamilton, Ont., former Canadian captain.

According to the prosecution, Miss Gillars obtained and transcribed spoken messages from them and other prisoners on visits to Nazi hospitals in prison camps.

The jury yesterday heard a recording of a D-Day drama, made at a U. S. government listening post in Maryland

Adelbert Houben, former boss of Miss Gillars in the Nazi radio service, testified that she appeared on the program. He said he recognized her voice.

The radio drama opened with sound effects of battle action, and an announcer's voice intoning

"The D of D-day stands for doom disaster death . . . defeat . . . Dunkirk or Dieppe."

Other voices described the dead troops of the Dieppe invasion.

"They looked like dressed meat in a butcher shop," said one. "Roasted geese," said another.

Miss Gillars allegedly played the role of an American mother who talked to her soldier-son in a dream, and learned that he had been killed in the invasion.

Right-Footed Shoes Disappear In Theft

CHICAGO — (INS) — Thieves who broke into the automobile of Albert L. Friedman, Chicago shoe salesman, made off with a sample case containing 32 women's shoes.

But the shoes, valued at $100, won't be of much use to the burglars. They're all for the right foot

Testifies Before Senate

Calls Measure Backward Step

WASHINGTON — (INS) — A top government labor official today brought an inter-administration quarrel into the open by opposing transfer of the Federal Mediation service back to the jurisdiction of the Labor department.

Cyrus S Ching, mediation service director, went before the Senate Labor committee to condemn this key feature of the Democratic substitute for the Taft-Hartley law.

The 72-year-old mediator told the committee concerning the proposed shift of his agency to Labor Secretary Tobin's supervision.

"It would be a step backwards in the very important job of strengthening our industrial democracy by promoting sound practices and usages of collective bargaining and minimizing and preventing labor disputes."

Ching pointed out that the secretary of labor—under the organic act of his department—must espouse the welfare of workers.

Thus, he said, if the mediation unit's independent status is destroyed, Labor department officers running it will lack the confidence of many employers who will have suspicions as to their impartiality. Ching declared:

'TAKE NO SIDES'

"It should be clear that mediators must be completely insulated from law enforcement and take no sides in legislative programs on which employers and unions disagree."

Democratic members generally endorsed the argument of Secretary of Labor Tobin that the "force of public opinion" and the "powers of the President" are sufficient to protect the country.

Republican Senators Taft, Ohio, Morse, Oregon, and Aiken, Vt., take the opposite view. Aiken said the proposed substitute for the Taft-Hartley law has only "false teeth" as far as John L. Lewis and a possible future coal strike are concerned.

Attorney General Tom Clark may clarify the issue of just what authority President Truman has in a national emergency labor dispute if the Democratic legislation is enacted knocking out the use of anti-strike injunctions

Sen. Thomas (D-Okla), committee chairman, asked Clark to submit a written report to the Senate Labor committee.

More Snow In Sight

If that sage of weather predictors, namely Mr. Groundhog, sees his shadow tomorrow, Mansfielders can expect six more weeks of cold weather.

And the weatherman is willing to predict that the shadow will be there.

Anyway, the weather picture for the next few days will bear out the woodchuck. The five-day outlook states that snow flurries will be seen in the upper portion of the state Wednesday.

Snow is likely Thursday and again Saturday and Sunday, totaling ¼ to ½ inch of precipitation. Temperatures will average 2 to 4 degrees below normal. Rather cold throughout the period with somewhat warmer temperatures over the week end.

The mercury edged up to 23 degrees at noon after dropping to a low of 8 above at 4 a. m. today.

The Ohio river, which last week threatened to stage a mid-winter flood, slowly dropped back into its banks today.

The weather bureau said continued low temperatures made it unlikely that snow blanketing the Ohio river valley would melt fast enough to put the river out of its banks again.

MANHATTAN GUN BATTLE—While three policemen (circle) crouch behind car and another (right) holds a rifle in readiness, a tear gas bomb explodes on sidewalk in front of house on East 69th street, at New York, as police close in on Elmer Stanford, 40, suspect in the rifle shooting of a Catholic priest in confessional of a nearby church. Police had failed to talk Stanford into surrendering and attempted to toss the tear gas bomb into his second floor window. The bomb struck the front of the building and exploded on the sidewalk. Stanford was captured.

Indian Children Stranded

Freezing Cold Hits Dixieland Orchards

(By United Press)

Dixieland suffered its second hard freeze today as the western range states launched a coordinated effort to smash away the big snowdrifts and carry feed to the West's 5,500,000 starving livestock.

The freezing cold struck again at the citrus and vegetable gardens of southern Texas, the Louisiana strawberry beds, and the Georgia peach orchards.

Highways were dangerous from yesterday's blanket of snow throughout upper Mississippi and Louisiana, northern Alabama and Georgia, Tennessee and North Carolina.

Four hundred men worked emergency shifts to restore electrical power to outlying sections of Atlanta which suffered a complete blackout for a time yesterday. Gainesville and Athens, Ga., also were cut off from power and one newspaper published a mimeographed "ice-bound edition."

An army doctor, Capt. George W. Magladry jr., volunteered to parachute today to the aid of 60 Navajo Indian children stranded in their snowbound Arizona school for more than a week.

A "grasshopper fleet" of Civil Air Patrol planes dropped 1,200 pounds of emergency rations to the children last night. Dr. Philip Scholta, Ft Defiance, Ariz, doctor, and a nurse were scheduled to be flown there also by helicopter.

Two C-47 Air Force planes dropped food to the 50,000 Navajoes on the reservation and then dispatched two C-54 ships to aid them.

The navy also ordered six RYD's to Phoenix to join the southwest haylift which yesterday dropped a new record of 259,288 pounds of hay to stranded herds in the Nevada area.

From his headquarters at Omaha, Maj. Lewis A. Pick opened a coordinated attack on the snows covering the northern plains.

He sent forth hundreds of caterpillars, bulldozers, scrapers, graders, rotary plows and weasels, controlling them over a special radio network and an elaborate aerial reconnaisance system.

Will Ignore Peace Bid

U. S., Britain Want It Official

WASHINGTON —(INS)— The United States and Britain were agreed today that they would ignore the latest "peace bid" of Soviet Premier Josef Stalin unless submitted in official form.

This agreement was exchanged at a meeting between British Ambassador Sir Oliver Franks and Charles E. Bohlen, top State department adviser on Russian relations.

The unscheduled meeting was held after Franks was instructed by British Foreign Minister Ernest Bevin to present his government's position on the Stalin statement to the United States.

Britains position was the first official foreign reaction given to the State department. The British response appeared to be influenced by a fear that the United States and Russia might undertake some separate agreement.

President Truman reiterated his long-standing position, however, that he would be glad to meet with Stalin at any time, but only in Washington.

Three Hurt In Cave-In

CARBONDALE, PA. — (UP) — A whole city block in this anthracite community subsided today when an underground mine caved in. At least three persons were reported injured and 14 homes severely damaged.

Civil War Hits Burma

Fighting Flares Near Rangoon

RANGOON, Burma — (AP) — Fighting between Burmese troops and Karen tribesmen broke out this morning at Sawbwagyigone, 10 miles north of Rangoon.

The fighting is near Insein and Karen sources said the battle raged around the home of Saw Ba U Gyi, president of the Karen National Union, whom they have not been able to contact since yesterday morning

The Burmese government did not comment immediately on the new fighting but the bark of trench mortars was clearly audible in Rangoon.

There was considerable tension in Rangoon, although the people have maintained an outward calm.

Earlier, heavy mortar and machinegun fire was reported from the west Rangoon suburb of Ahlone during the night, near the headquarters of the Karen National Union. A huge fire reddened the sky for miles and was clearly visible in Rangoon.

10 Indicted After Probe

CIRCLEVILLE — (AP) — One secret indictment and nine minor indictments were returned yesterday by a special Pickaway county grand jury investigating an alleged night club shakedown attempt.

The jurors were investigating reported attempts to get $1800 from four Circleville night clubs by a "stranger" who promised protection against law enforcement raids.

Prosecutor Guy Cline reported the grand jury action.

Court officials and Cline decline to say whether the indictments were connected with the liquor inquiry.

Common Please Judge William Radcliff told the jury not to talk with anyone about the indictments and inquiry.

Nazi-Loving Parrot Ends Up Missing

MUNICH—(INS)—Munich's famous pro-nazi parrot which shouts "Heil Hitler," on the slightest provocation, has disappeared from the Munich zoo.

Caretakers fear that the bird known as Laura, was "kidnaped.""

Laura attracted considerable attention recently with disclosure that zoo officials were trying to "denazify" her speech.

Senate Gets Bill In War On Gaming

Would Bolster Lausche's Hand

COLUMBUS — (AP) — Gov. Frank J. Lausche's plea for power to wage state-wide war on organized gambling got Senate attention today.

Sen. W. H. Daugherty (D-Columbiana) asked the legislature in a bill to grant the authority the governor asked in his Jan. 17 "state of the state" address.

Lausche said he acted in his 1945-46 term against mayors failing to enforce gambling laws. He wanted the power extended to cover sheriffs and make it county-wide. This would embrace the entire state.

"We occasionally find in our state a sheriff who flagrantly refuses to enforce the law and permits the operation of racketeering commercial gambling enterprises," Lausche told the General assembly.

Daugherty's bill of last night would allow the governor to oust sheriffs blind to gambling in their counties. It would do this under a clause providing for removal for gross neglect of duty. Other reasons for removal include bribery, gross immorality or gross drunkenness.

Thirty-day suspensions without pay are provided to permit public hearings on ouster charges before removal.

Pleas to erase bans against strikes by public workers and sale of colored oleo were raised as new bills flooded the legislature.

House Labor committee members opened hearings on measures to wipe out last session's Ferguson act. It forbids strikers by public employes, including school teachers and is a prime target of organized labor.

Stiff Punishment

COLUMBUS — (INS) — The stiffest punishment ever proposed for slot machine operators was contained in a bill sponsored today in the House of Representatives by Rep. Guy C. Hiner (R-Stark.)

Hiner's measure outlawing the one-armed bandits proposed a fine of $100 for the first offense — but up to $5,000 fine and ten years imprisonment for a third conviction.

Sergeants Serve On Army Court

HEIDELBERG, GERMANY — (AP) — Four sergeants took their places beside six officers on a military court for the first time in U. S. history here today, to try two soldiers on a charge of murder.

The accused, Privates First Class Andrew D. Byrd, 31, of Orlando, Fla., and Oscar B. Gannon, 24, of Hanging Rock, O., chose to have the enlisted men on the court under a new rule which went into effect today.

They pleaded innocent to "premeditated murder" of one German civilian and assault of another shortly after midnight Dec. 31, in a brawl outside the home of a German woman in Schwetzingen.

Hawley Resigns State Liquor Post

COLUMBUS —(AP)— The resignation of Harry E. Hawley of Shelby, O., as supervisor of stores and agencies in the state liquor department was announced today.

State Liquor Director Oscar L. Fleckner said he had accepted the resignation, effective Jan. 31.

Hawley, former Mansfield postmaster and clerk of the Richland County Board of Elections, assumed his liquor department duties on Jan. 21, 1947.

Vaughn To Have Opponent

Locke Still Interested

Thomas B. Wright, 29-year-old First ward councilman, today announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for mayor, while Charles O. Anglin, former councilman, said he would file for mayor on the Democratic ticket.

Wright's announcement assured a GOP contest for mayor since Mayor Roy W. Vaughn already had announced he would seek a third term.

Former Mayor William J. Locke is still considered a possible GOP mayoralty candidate. He said today he would not have an announcement to make until tomorrow, the final filing date.

Anglin, who ran for mayor two years ago and lost to Vaughn, is not expected to have opposition in the May primary.

Former Sheriff Frank E. Robinson said today he did not intend to file for the Democratic nomination for mayor. He had been mentioned for the post.

In announcing his candidacy, Wright said he felt "that a young man who was born and raised in Mansfield and has all the necessary qualifications for the office should be able to carry out a progressive program for the benefit of the city."

George Connor, 827 Park avenue west, filed today for president of council on the Democratic ticket while Harry E. Colbow, former South Boulevards mayor, filed for the Democratic nomination for Second ward councilman.

Charles N. Shultz, veteran Republican Second ward councilman, indicated today he would file for re-election.

Robert Y. Davis, Johnny Appleseed junior high school teacher and an active P-TA worker, today announced he will seek the Republican nomination for councilman-at-large.

HOLLINGSWORTH FILES

Harry Hollingsworth, incumbent Republican councilman-at-large, said today he would seek re-election. There are three council-at-large posts to be filled.

Both the Republicans and Democrats have candidates for city solicitor, with the present solicitor, C. J. Kalbfleisch, Republican and Attorney Joseph H. Ellison, Democrat, filing.

Seeking the Republican nomination for Sixth ward councilman is Leonard J. Parrella, of 214 East Second street, while Councilman-at-large Michael Mihalick, of 195 Cline avenue filed for the Democratic nomination for councilman-at-large.

Chris Weigler of 267 East Arch street, filed for Sixth ward councilman on the Democratic ticket.

Charles E. Bahl, of 550 West Third street, filed for the Republican nomination for treasurer.

A four-way fight for the three Democratic nominations for councilman-at-large developed with Earl K. Troll, John B. Nicholson, Nelson Swihart and Mihalick in the contest.

There's a contest for the Republican nomination for treasurer, with Attorney Rex Larson and Bahl filing their petitions.

Raging Fire Traps Six

RIPON, Wis. — (INS) — Fire destroyed Ripon's Grand View hotel today and officials said six persons were missing.

Police Chief Ira Dunham said there were more than 40 guests in the hotel when the blaze broke out. He added: "Some of them are still in there."

Dunham estimated the loss at between $75,000 and $100,000 and said it would be impossible to start searching the ruins until the burning embers cooled down.

Some of the guests who escaped fled into the streets in subfreezing weather

Communism In the U. S. A.

Hunters Made Errors But Never Backed Up

By ROBERT E. STRIPLING
(Edited by Bob Considine)

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the third of a series of twenty-eight articles examining the communist conspiracy in the United States. Mr. Stripling was until recently the sparkplug of the House committee that uncovered widespread communist propaganda and espionage In this exclusive series he will show the reader, for the first time, the inner workings of the House un-American Activities committee).

I am not a professional apologist for the House un-American Activities committee.

As a member of its investigative staff for ten years I frequently spoke out against its intra-committee bickering, its chronic (as is true of all political groups) inability to keep secret matters secret, and the time it wastes in answering the rugged minority which keeps it under attack.

Those who wish the committee well, but at the same time wish that it could be more discreet in its public and private hearings, tend to compare its conduct with that of, say, an upper judicial court.

It is not a fair comparison. Members of Congress are not necessarily trained as impartial jurists. They operate their hearings under different rules. As elected representatives of their political parties they are subject to the exigencies of their calling. They must run for re-election, keep their names alive in their home-district newspapers, guard their sovereign rights and privileges. It was ever thus and ever will it be.

The chairman of our committee during the Alger Hiss investigation on one occasion asked the members to take an oath that they would not divulge what had taken place in a secret session. They all took the oath.

Within two hours the story was on the front pages of afternoon newspapers throughout the country.

I prepared the difficult Gerhart Eisler case without informing a single member beyond Chairman Thomas, until the night before the witness was called and gave his remarkable performance on the stand. The Eisler case went like clockwork. I would urge the same procedure on my successor.

The committee has made mistakes, but in one chief instance it has never wilted, never backed up: and that is its diligent pursuit of the communist menace in this country.

UNCOVERED ALL FOES

A standard criticism of the committee is that it combats communism wholly and ignores fascism and other un-American activities. Yet up until the time we uncovered the Hiss-Chambers case, 25 per cent of the 19,651 pages of testimony the committee had taken concerned nazi, fascist and Japanese subversive activities.

Committee investigators prepared, as the first case heard

Elementary School On Emergency Footing

Teachers, Pupils Overcome By Fumes

MC ALLEN, Tex.—(AP)—Four of an estimated 50 pupils and eight teachers overcome by gas fumes or gas in Lincoln elementary school yesterday were hospitalized and one was given a blood transfusion.

Most of the victims became violently ill when they staggered out of the classrooms An emergency clinic was set up in the school gymnasium.

Last night the emergency clinic was moved to the fire station. Indications were that there may be more coming back for a second oxygen treatment and others may be feeling the effects for the first time.

A city gas system representative theorized that condensation in the gas pipes, because of the cold, may have resulted in incomplete combustion, causing fumes.

Practically every doctor in town" answered the emergency call that was broadcast immediately, the McAllen Monitor reported.

Officials closed all seven McAllen schools for an indefinite period while tests are made to determine the cause of the escaping gas or gas fumes.

The Lincoln school is heated by natural gas. Each room has its own gas stove.

All stoves in the school were "going full blast" the Monitor reported. McAllen, in the semi-tropical Rio Grande Valley, has been in the grip of severe cold for that area, but the temperature had risen to about 35 degrees when the eight teachers and 28 pupils became ill.

About 200 pupils attend the school.

Russians About-Face During Year

Change Observed Since Benes Fall

By the time the North Atlantic Security pact comes up for debate in the senate about a year will have passed since the idea, in the form of the Vandenberg Resolution, first became a practical proposition in the United States. As preparation for the debate it will be useful to recall what happened last winter to inspire the Vandenberg Resolution, and what has happened since.

It is, I think, clear that the decisive event was the overthrow of the Benes government in Czechoslovakia by the communists acting under the direct orders of Moscow.

The outrage so wantonly committed against the Czechoslovak Republic did more than arouse indignation. There seemed to be no way to explain the coup except as a military action in preparation for war. For the Benes government, though a democracy, was a diplomatic ally of the Soviet Union, and in the diplomatic struggle between East and West had remained, no doubt with reluctance and misgivings, within the Soviet diplomatic system.

There was no sufficient reason for the overthrow of this government unless it was that Moscow expected a war, and knew that the Czechoslovak army and people could not be depended on.

That view was strengthened by the fact that almost simultaneously Stalin was reported to be making demands of a strategical character on Finland. Everyone knew that in case of war the control of the Baltic Sea and of the famous Bohemian quadrilateral in Czechoslovakia would be of crucial importance.

IN THIS COUNTRY the reaction to these events was strong. Not only did they insure the adoption of the European Recovery Program and of the Vandenberg resolution but, also, they brought about American rearmament based — and this was almost certainly of the highest importance — on conscription. The willingness of congress to draft men, not merely to appropriate money, was the kind of action which made it plain to all the world that this country was seriously aroused.

All that happened last spring. Since then the expectation of war has greatly diminished. In some ways the most notable fact about the Berlin blockade has been the cumulative evidence that the Russians were using it for political reasons, not for military.

It is recognized by all the Allied intelligence services that though the Berlin blockade created great diplomatic tension, there has been no evidence that the Red Army was preparing to invade Western Europe, nor that it was thinking of strangling the air lift, nor that it was provoking incidents or that it was willing to be prevoked by incidents.

There is, on the contrary, more and more evidence that if last winter the Russians expected war, they have since then decided definitely to avoid war. Almost all stories about what goes on inside the Kremlin are second hand and not to be taken too literally. But the President's idea that there has been a division in the Kremlin on the question of war and peace is probably not mere wishful thinking.

A western Communist, who is in a position to know a good deal, explained this change of attitude by saying that Stalin, who heads the more conciliatory faction, acutally lost control of the Politburo in 1947 when the Marshall plan was announced and the Cominform created; that at the first meeting of the Cominform the French and Italian Communist delegates were told by Zhdanov that war was inevitable and that they must prepare for it; that after the death of Zhdanov, however, Stalin regained a majority in the Politburo, and is again in control of Soviet policy.

I do not know whether this story is a true account, or, if true, whether it explains what has happened. My own view is that if the Kremlin has decided not to have war, that decision was assisted mightily, indeed confirmed, by the American rearmament program based on conscription.

Considered against the background the North Atlantic Security Pact — if it is put in the context of a constructive and astute diplomatic action—would give a juridical shape to the actual situation.

It will do that most effectively if it is not overloaded with all manner of strategic boondoggling on the part of the military theorists, not all of them in uniform, who would, if they had their way, acquire bases on the moon — or at least on that artificial moon that someone has a blueprint for — and would pepper the earth with military missions. and would develop, if the Treasury did not go bankrupt, three omnipotent forces, each capable all by itself of winning not only a war but any war anywhere any time.

by the committee, a report showing that the nazis were maintaing a force of 5,000 uniformed storm troopers in this country's Bund camps, and that Italian fascists were active in a number of cities.

We had Fritz Kuhn on our witness stand twice before he went on trial in New York for stealing Bund funds. Ralph Townsend was exposed as a Japanese agent by the committee in August, 1939, and was later sentenced for violation of the Foreign Agents act.

Fraser S. Gardner, secret agent of Silver Shirt Leader William Dudley Pelley, was convicted of perjury in a case growing out of his appearance before the committee. George Deatherage leader of the Knights of the White Camellia, was found and exposed by the committee, as were Henry D. Allen, former Silver Shirt leader, and countless Bund members, including G. Wilhelm Kunze.

REPORTED ON NAZIS

I personally seized, and the committee exposed, the records of the subversive Kyffhauserbund. In 1940 we published a 414-page report on U. S. nazis and their fronts. We first directed attention to the fact that Adolf Hitler was making considerable use of his diplomatic and consular officers as spies in this country.

We showed that Japanese knew our fleet position at Pearl Harbor, were using Japanese naval officers on their radio-equipped fishing boats, and had set up action committees in Hawaii and on our west coast.

Later, our studies of conditions in Japanese relocation centers brought out that disloyal Japanese were permitted to mingle with and often terrorize loyal Japanese-Americans. That led to the transfer of the relocation authority to the Interior department.

These achievements speak for themselves. They did not go unnoticed.

But whenever we cast an inquiring eye on the equally subversive activities of the communist Party, we were instantly assailed, though the strongest microscope could not differentiate between the nature of the party's conspiracy and that of the Germans, Japanese and Italians.

(TOMORROW: Stripling reveals back-of-the-scene efforts of the Roosevelt Administration to crush the new committee.)

Determined Madison Cagers Play at Shelby

JIMMY ANDERSON, Senior high forward . . . the Tygers' leading scorer is a junior who will be 17 come Feb. 10. . . . Although a four letterman at Johnny Appleseed junior high, Jimmy was not an outstanding athlete . . . He came to prominence suddenly this winter with his loose-jointed one-handers from the court corners . . . was on the soph cage team last year, and went out for baseball but did not make the varsity . . . will be out for track this year and hopes to compete in relays, the hundred-yard dash, and high jump . . . in the ninth grade he was a varsity man in football, basketball and track . . . got his greatest thrill when he caught two touchdown passes and two for extra points against the Willard reserves in 1946 . . . has plans to coach basketball and other sports after college . . . modest almost to a fault, he is easily distinguished on the basketball court by an unruly crop of blond hair atop a skinny frame . . . his only other experience in athletics was in last winter's high school boxing tournament which he describes by saying "I got beat up."

JOE DISTL, Madison cager . . . the Mister splints of and bandages of Madison high school . . . is fond of all sports and claims to get more out of them (injuries) than anyone else in town . . . once had 14 stitches taken in his arm for the seemingly safe task of chasing a fly ball in the outfield . . . it seems he fell in some rocks and cinders . . . he got an early start in life . . . was hit by a car when three years old and suffered a broken leg . . . as he got bigger so did the vehicles . . . two years ago he and "Dutch" Bader were riding a bike through the Park avenue east underpass when they were struck by a truck . . . as an example of how he can pick up injuries, Joe did not start the Fredericktown game two weeks ago because of a bad back. . . . In the second quarter Coach Blaine Dowler took him off the bench, but soon had to pull him out with a sprained ankle . . . the going got rough and Joe limpe back in during the second half . . . soon he was back on the bench with blood streaming out of a cut under his eye . . . in between, he had managed to pick up some beautiful floor burns.

Joe Distl

With all his troubles, Distl still wants to continue athletics after he graduates this spring . . . would like to be a coach but isn't sure yet just what college he will attend . . . in the meantime will likely play second base for Madison's first baseball team in many years this spring . . . held down the keystone for the American Legion juniors last year . . . played end for the Madison football team last fall although he did not come out until mid-season . . . got his biggest sports thrill with three hits and a walk last year for Legion Juniors in district tournament . . . will be 18 in May, stands six feet and weighs 170 pounds . . . has made a "tour" of Mansfield schools . . . went the first eight years to East Mansfield, then two at Johnny Appleseed and a year-and-a-half at Senior high before transferring to Madison . . . his only sport at Senior was a year of reserve baseball.

Glove Semis

CLEVELAND —(INS)— Some 64 fighters resume action tonight at the arena in the semi-finals of the 21st annual Golden Gloves Tournament.

Seek Repeat Of Victory In Opener

A determined Madison high basketball team will be out to prove that last week's surprise victory over Columbus Linden McKinley was no accident when it invades Shelby tonight.

The Rams defeated the Whippets in their first game of the season, then, after winning three more, slumped badly until last week. Shelby has broken even in 14 games against tough competition and with the added advantage of its home floor, must be rated a slight favorite.

INSPIRED TEAM

Madison, however, was an inspired team against McKinley and if it can continue playing that type of ball, will be tough to beat for anybody the remainder of the season. The Rams have won seven and lost five.

Both teams are in good physical shape although Hank Onie, Shelby forward, is bothered in shooting by a dislocated finger. One change has been made in the Whippets lineup since the opening game—sophomore Jerry Wilson having been inserted at guard in place of Bud Fackler.

DECIDED EDGE

Shelby has a decided edge in heighth as forward Dick Utz stands six-foot-two and center Stan Cronenwett, six-one-and-a-half. Onie is five-ten, Wilson, five-seven, and guard Gerald Clark, five-nine.

Madison won the game here 45-38 after Shelby made a fine fourth quarter comeback to tie the score at 38-38.

Reserve game will start at 7 p. m. tonight, a half hour earlier than preliminaries at Madison.

Freddies Seeking 19th Straight In Headline Contest

Fredericktown will go after its 19th straight victory in the headliner of Class B games in the area. The Freddies are slated to be host to a good Marion St. Mary's team in the Fredericktown gym.

Two Richland county teams will play non-loop foes. Plymouth is set to be host to Tiro while Butler hits the road to Centerburg.

Perrysville invades Jeromesville in an Ashland county game while Edison and Johnsville battle at Johnsville in a Morrow county feature contest. Both teams have lost only once in league play. Johnsville beat Edison and Sparta took Johnsville.

Doesn't Like 'Pressurizing'

NEW YORK — (INS) — AAU secretary - treasurer Daniel J. Ferris doesn't approve of the attempt by New York meet-promoters to wean Don Gehrmann away from his campus obligations, and frankly said so today.

He disclaimed direct AAU responsibility for the campaign of subtle "pressuring," and added, tartly:

"I don't think either Gehrmann or his college should be 'pressurized.'

"Least of all, certainly, on the pretext that Don ought to pass up college dual meets because 16,000 people want to see him a Madison Square garden again."

Tunney Says 'Charles'

SAN FRANCISCO — (INS)— Retired world's heavyweight champion Gene Tunney's choice as logical contender for Joe Louis's world crown is Ezzard Charles of Cincinnati "even if he can't punch a lick."

Ferguson, Shibinski Now Tyger Cage Score Threats

Paul Ferguson and Norb Shibinski, the "Mutt and Jeff" combination on the present Senior high school basketball team, have become much more proficient in the art of hitting the basket.

In fact, the co-captains of the 1948-49 Tygers are averaging 5.2 points more a game than they were at a corresponding time last year. But in both campaigns their work has been overshadowed by a player of the "hot shot" variety.

Last year, it was Nick Gagich who carried the scoring load and this trip Junior Jimmy Anderson is the No. 1 scoreboy. But Paul and Norb have been much more in the scoring limelight.

BECOMES A THREAT

At the end of 14 games a year ago, the two captains had an aggregate of 11.2 a game but this year the figure is up to 17.4. Oddly enough its the little fellow of the combo—Ferguson—who has blossomed into a threat.

Ferguson has raised his average nearly four points an outing, although he's still playing the back guard style of playmaker in Coach Vern Hoffman's offensive setup. Hoffman usually keeps one man in mid-court with the other breaking for the basket in a set pattern.

But "Pinkie" has come through when the big boys in the front line have been shackled. In each of the last two games he has notched 10 points, a feat he did not manage all last season. Right now in 14 games, he's scored 26 points more than he did in 22 last year.

Shibinski has 154, a figure he did not reach until the 18th game on the Gagich-sparked outfit.

ANDERSON ON TOP

The scoring leader is Anderson with 176. Before Hoffman switched to the double-pivot offense, Shibinski was shading Anderson in the scoring columns. Ferguson leads the foul shooters with 28 of 48 connections.

Ferguson, an All-Ohio footballer, stands about 5-7 and weighs less than 150 while Shibinski hits 6-3 and shades the 200 pound mark. He was a football tackle.

★

Senior high will be trying for its 10th victory Friday at Ashland. The Tygers have lost five times, all on the road. Ticket Manager George Sherman announced today that the game is already a sell-out.

Galion-Crestline Play NOL Contest

GALION — In a Northern Ohio league game on the junior high court tonight, the Galion high Tigers will meet the Crestline Bulldogs.

Earlier this season in a non-league game at Crestline Coach Merle Hutson's Bulldogs won over the Tigers by a score of 49-45.

Gophers Back In Big 9 Cage League Lead

CHICAGO — (INS) — It took just 48 hours of being second in the Western Conference basketball race to convince Minnesota that it is nicer to be first.

So the Gophers were atop the standings once again today, having trampled Northwestern, 61 to 40, at Minneapolis last night while Illinois — which wrested the controls from the Gophers Saturday night —was absorbing its first conference loss, a 55-53 nudging at Purdue.

BIG JIM GETS

Big Jim McIntyre, the six-foot-nine Minnesota center who is studying for the ministry, let go with a 26-point barrage to lead the Gophers last night and, incidentally, to pass teammate Whitey Skoog in the conference individual scoring chase.

McIntyre now has tallied 112 points in seven conference games, while sophomore Skoog, who dumped in 13 markers against Northwestern, has 111.

Michigan provided the other news last night by winning a non-conference game from Michigan state, 49 to 38.

Saturday night may be productive of another change in the standings. Illinois plays at Wisconsin and Minnesota at Ohio State, while at Chicago stadium Northwestern faces Michigan and Indiana has a non-conference foe in De Paul.

Free America Citation's Sub

MIAMI —(AP) —Citation's stand in, the racer Calumet farm kept warmed up on the sidelines ready to rush into action if the big horse waekened, will get his chance in the $50,000 Widener handicap at Hialeah Feb. 26.

His name is Free America — the colt many experts rated Citation's equal during their two-year-old careers in 1947.

Citation is temporarily laid up with a slight injury suffered in winning the Tanforan handicap in California last December, and Free America is to get his chance to carry the Warren Wright silks in one of the major stakes of the winter season.

Jack Dugger Goes To Chicago Bears

DETROIT — (AP) — Jack Dugger, former Ohio State University star tackle, has been traded to the Chicago Bears, the Detroit Lions said last night. Dugger is a former Mansfield high athlete.

The Lions said the football player was traded for the draft rights to an undisclosed football star. Dugger, who has been with the Lions the last two seasons, won all big nine honors at Ohio State. He captained the Buckeyes in 1943.

This Sad Plea Concerns Fellows In Arnica and Old Bandage Brigade Who Labor From Tackle to Tackle

By OSCAR FRALEY

NEW YORK—(UP)—Football's arnica and old bandage brigade, the guys who do the work up front, have been groaning for years that the "linemen do the work and backs get the glory" so it seems about time that something is done to portion out the gravy.

A lot of good white space has been wasted lately with a professional footbrawl serial, a tear-jerker entitled "Who can afford to lose the most money." So there must be some room to consider the plight of the burly poor men who labor from tackle to tackle.

Isn't it about time that football statistics added a line? Something which read:

"Tackles made by:"

Currently those unmerging millionaires in pro ball are talking about losing hundreds of thousands here and a few more bucks there. Certainly they could afford one man to see that the lads who do the work get a portion of the praise. And in college football, plenty of students would be glad to get a free ticket to note who bashes the ball carrier.

Football's only defensive tribute concerns the interception of forward passes. The remainder are aimed at glorification of halfbacks with even a penalty line which notes the whistle tooting attributes of the officials.

Yet half of the lads playing football sweat it out from unknown tackle to equally inconspicuous tackle. And all they do is to catch you-know-what when those "great" backs made a couple of yards through their position.

Rapid fire basketball shows how easy it would be to keep a football tackling payoff list. In the court game it isn't too terrific for a man to dunk 30 points per evening. And no self-respecting team settles for less than 60 points in a contest.

Yet basketball statisticians can come up with field goal attempts and even such gems as "field goal averages."

Baseball has what is probably the most intricate statistical system in sports. You can find out how many times Hathaway Schultz of Terre Haute in the three-ee league was thrown out stealing; the number of pitches used in a game or even—in Brooklyn—a player's "earned base average" computed on unintentional walks and total bases on hits divided by times at bat over a season.

Tennis comes up with service aces, balls netted, driven out, placed and so forth, just as though thousands of fans were waiting breathlessly, and maybe they are.

But in football—if you're a tackle, a guard, a center or a line backer—the guy who lays low those free-wheeling ball carriers doesn't even get a smile from the coach. And if you just happen to be one of those old time defensive ends who doesn't worry too much about catching forward passes, you can join the club of unknowns.

It's fairly unanimous, except, among the guys who get paid for picking them, that selecting All America football teams is one of the top jokes of all time. Yet, if you knew who did the work on most of these football teams it would simplify the job to some extent and maybe even provide a bit of sense to the whole business.

Ideal Quintet Upsets Reese In Cage Loop

Ideal Billiards put on a surprising fourth quarter drive last night to nose out Reese Optical, 21-20, in the only upset recorded in American league basketball play at Senior high.

Ideal trailed 16-9 going into the final period but soon took the lead and froze the ball for the last 45 seconds of the game.

Mansfield Tire romped over Ideal Billiards, 47-26, and Westinghouse took Shorty's News, 41-29, in other games.

Amvets Book Brown Movie

First Mansfield showing of the Cleveland Browns latest motion picture, "The Year Around With the Browns," has been scheduled Wednesday, Feb. 9, at the Amvets club.

The 40-minute movie is patterned after the Browns two previous films which have been shown several times in Mansfield. The Feb. 9 program will be for Amvets and their guests. The coaching staffs of Senior and Madison high schools will also attend.

Big Bill Edwards, tackle coach of the Browns, will explain the movie and give a talk on the Cleveland team. Edwards is a former head football coach at Western Reserve and piloted the Detroit Lions one season.

Bob Sneeringer, Don Kirkpatrick and Dick Underwood are in charge of the program.

More Honors Given Bearden

PHILADELPHIA, — (UP) — Pitcher Gene Bearden, who overcame the handicap of severe war wounds to propel the Cleveland Indians to the world championship, was hailed as the most courageous athlete of 1948 by the Philadelphia sports writers association.

The 28-year-old southpaw, a sensation in his first year as a major leaguer, received an award at the association's annual banquet last night.

Also honored by the scribes were the Indians' player-manager Lou Boudreau, picked as the outstanding athlete of 1948, and Charles (Chuck) Bednarik, who was named the outstanding college lineman of last season.

Swim Against NC

COLUMBUS, — (UP) — Ohio State's crack swimming team, winner over Northwestern last week, will face the University of North Carolina in the Ohio Natatorium here Saturday.

Four Teams Get Into First Place Act In Commercial

Everybody wants to get into the act in the Commercial C league.

No less than four teams crowded into first place as the result of last night's bowling at Colony alleys. Urschel Insurance and Barnes Market, which had shared the spot, were tied by Local 17 and Tinkey Lumber.

Urschel's and Barnes dropped two of three games while the other two each won a pair.

Frank Kearns of Frisch Grocery pounded out the only honor roll score in seven leagues with a 236-186-181-603. Bud McKee of Tinkey Lumber was only four pins back with 165-226-208—599.

Joe Rabel scattered the Maples for a 245 first fame count but slipped to a 557 series.

R. Cross of the Orphans had a 573 three game total while Adams of Independent Towel posted 551.

★

In the Club league, Art Hilborn was stopped for the third time in nine bowling nights as he failed to go over the 600 mark. The Colony mamager had to be content with fifth place after rolling a series of 226-157-162—545. Fritz Schnittke of Globe Steel was in the van with a 582 series compiled on games of 207, 214, and 161. Kentucky Cage Team Tops AP Scribe Polling

NEW YORK — (AP) — Kentucky is the new no. 1 basketball team of the nation, replacing St. Louis university in the third weekly Associated Press poll of sports writers and sportcasters.

A 24-point victory involving the magic name of Notre Dame sent the Wildcats out front for the first time. Kentucky has won 14 and lost 1. St. Louis has a 13-1 mark.

Forty-three different schools were mentioned by the 71 participants who gave Kentucky a 39-25 margin in first place ballots. The other no. 1 votes were divided among Oklahoma Aggies with 4 and western Kentucky, Illinois and Stanford, with one each.

Back of Kentucky and St. Louis come the Oklahoma Aggies, who avenged an earlier loss by thumping Depaul of Chicago, 37-26.

Illinois, which handed Minnesota its first loss after 13 straight 45-44, edged into fourth place ahead of the Gophers.

Western Kentucky (16 - 1) knocked out the unbeaten division by eastern Kentucky, 42-40, slipped two pegs from fourth to sixth.

Then come Villanova (12-1) and Hamline (14-0), the nation's only unbeaten major team, seventh and eighth, respectively.

Stanford moved into the top 10 in the poll, based on games played through Saturday night, by downing San Jose state and Pittsburgh to make it 17-2 for the year.

San Francisco, a 56-49 victor over Arizona, dropped one place to tenth.

Stanford is the only new face in the top 10. It ousted Utah which was upset by Brigham Young twice in three days.

Browns Sign Brown For 5 Years

By RICHARD H. SMITH

CLEVELAND —(AP)— Colleges in search of a topflight football coach could scratch Paul E. Brown off their list today. He intends to stay with the Cleveland Browns until 1955.

Others may be glum about the future of the money-losing, peace-loathing professional game, but Brown has put down in writing his confidence things will work out. He announced last night he had signed to stay on as General Manager and Coach of the Browns for another five years after his present contract expires in 1950.

The new contract, he said, was a continuation of the current one which reportedly calls for $25,000 a year in salary and a share of the gate receipts.

Brown's surprise announcement to sports writers last night ended months of speculation that he was getting fed up with the pro-game and would return to college coaching.

On the contrary, he emphasized, he liked Cleveland, he liked the Browns who have won the all-America football conference championship for him all three years the junior loop has been operating, and he liked working for his boss, Browns' owner Arthur B (Mickey) McBride.

Because he has been approached by a number of college representatives, Brown said he wanted to make this clear.

"I have decided this is no time to give up, because of the present turmoil in professional football. I've made a decision to stick with it. Knowing I'm going to stay two more years, I may as well go with it the route."

McBride, a leader in the recent peace overtures from the all-America football conference to the older national league, voiced his satisfaction over the new agreement.

McBride admitted his Browns lost $40,000 last season when they were unbeaten and untied. He estimated the combined losses of AAFC members at $808,000 and of national league clubs at about $1,100,000.

But he shared with Brown the feeling that a solution to the troubles would come in the not too distant furture.

When his new contract runs out in 1955, Brown will be 48.

Ohio U. Gets Widdoes As Grid Coach

By FRITZ HOWELL
Ohio AP Sports Editor

COLUMBUS—Ohio university served notice today it is tired of being the Mid-American conference football doormat, by signing Carroll C. Widdoes of Ohio State as head coach.

Quiet, sincere "Wid" gives up a $10,000 per year full professorship at the State university to take the job starting March 1 It is a new chapter in one of the strangest sports stories of our time

Back in 1941 Widdoes came to Ohio State as backfield coach when Paul E. Brown moved in as chief after Francis Schmidt's seven years of razzle-dazzle.

BABY BUCKS ROMP

For three years Widdoes hung on to the assistant job, and then Brown enlisted in the navy "Wid" took over as boss and the Baby Bucks—a team of 4-F rejectees and freshmen—romped through nine straight foes to take the Big Nine title and give Ohio State its first unbeaten-untied season since the 'teens

The next year Widdoes, after being named coach of the year for his 1944 effort, piloted the team to seven wins and two losses

With the greatest record ever compiled by a Buckeye mentor wrapped up, "Wid" nonchalantly announced he didn't care for the pressure connected with a head coaching job, and stepped back into his backfield job as Paul Bixler, another Brown aide,

Penn Cage Quintet Runs Up 'A' Margin

Penn Auto-Sporting Goods increased its lead in the City A basketball league last night with a surprisingly easy 38-24 victory over Rogers Jewelry at John Simpson.

Urschel Insurance, however, provided the fireworks of the night as it finally "arrived" to wallop first-half champion Ohio Sport Center, 51-35

Sport Center's Ed Vanderbilt, the league's leading scorer, flipped in 17 points but Nick Gagich got 16 for Urschel's and his teammates gave him better support.

Penn Auto now leads the loop with five victories and one defeat against 3-2 for both Sport Center and the Jewelers

Ohio U. Signs Coach Widdoes

vaulted over him to the top spot.

LASTS ONE YEAR

Bixler lasted one season, and then Wesley Fesler, former All-America end at Ohio State, came in from Pittsburgh to take over. Wid remained as one of his valued assistants.

Now Widdoes feels he'd like another crack at head coaching and he'll get it with the leisurely folk in the Athens county hills—in one of the toughest minor loops in the country.

Widdoes takes over the reins from Harold Wise, who won six of 18 games in two years.

TOUGH LEAGUE

Arrayed against him in the tight little Mid-American loop will be Cincinnati, coached by Sid Gillman, who signed there a few weeks ago after a year as Army's line coach; Miami U., still seeking a head coach after George Blackburn and Joe Madro resigned to join Gillman; Butler, with Tony Hinkle at the helm: Western Michigan, piloted by Johnny Gill; and Western Reserve, coached by Mike Scarry, former star center for the professional Cleveland Browns.

"Wid" probably will find that opposition just as tough as the Big Nine foes against whom he scored 481 points while allowing 149 in his two years as boss of the Bucks.

Villanova Outfit Loses First Tilt

NEW YORK — (AP) — Hamline held the line alone today—the nation's only major unbeaten college basketball team.

The St. Paul school's 14-0 record stood by itself in the perfect class after the defeat of Villanova last night by Duquesne.

The Dukes stunned Villanova, which had won 12 straight starts, 65-37, at Pittsburgh in the feature game of a riotous evening's play.

Seniors Get Graduation Pictures

Reserve Cage Team Makes Good Showing

By ANN DIDICHER

The first week of the second semester has passed. By now most everyone at Madison high has settled down to normal living.

If you see the seniors with their billfolds bulging, its not because of an increase in allowance. Most of them have their graduation pictures by now and there has been a general exchange these past weeks.

We want to say congratulations to the reserve basketball team for the swell job it has been doing lately. The boys have won five out of six games in their 1948-49 season and are well on the way to winning many more. The reserve team traveled to Crestline last Tuesday night to over-run the Bulldog reserves 28-14. The varsity didn't do quite as well, losing by a 47-45 game score. This week we visit Shelby on Tuesday and play host to Crestline on Friday.

The 19 new members of the Madison Thespians will be initiated Thursday at the school. An interesting program of original skits is anticipated.

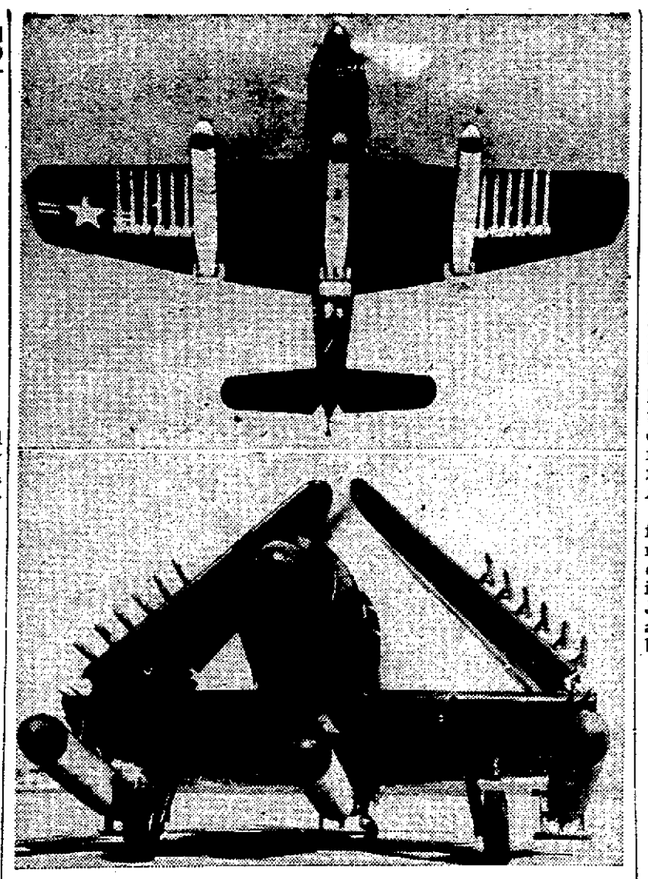
We want to congratulate Joanne Beer and Lydia Gross for being rated high in the annual DAR Good Citizenship Pilgrimage contest. Joanne scored 116 out of a possible 150, rating higher than 90 per cent of all students participating. Lydia rated herself higher than 90 per cent of all in the field of government. Good work, girls.

Last week the American essays were handed in for final checking. Only two or three from each class will be chosen to represent Madison high at the Legion. The theme for this essay was "The American Way—What is it?"

The girl's honor volleyball team will start practice next week in order to be in condition for the Playday at Senior high Friday.

Earl Heasley, dramatic teacher of Senior High school, will entertain us today with a few one act plays by some of his dramatic students.

After the basketball game a few weeks ago at Dorothy Sabo's, a taffy pull was held.



'ABLE MABEL' MAKES DEBUT—Newest and most potent single-engine dive bomber of the U. S. Navy is this AM1-Mauler dubbed by her pilots "the Able Mabel," two views of which are shown above. Now in quantity production, the plane, which made its debut in Baltimore, Md., can lift a gross load of 25,000 pounds, carries a payload of 9,000 pounds and packs twelve five-inch rockets, three 2,200-pound torpedoes, four 20MM cannons.

Boy's Note Tells Mother He'll Be In Detention Home

COLUMBUS — (UP) — The mother of Delbert Curtis, 15, knew where to find him today because he left a note on the kitchen table.

He was arrested at his home last night after police had seized his brother, Jerry, 15, and a friend Sam, 14, in the act of burglarizing a market.

The note, found by officers when they visited the home, read:

"Dear Mom:"

"If I ain't here when you come home, I'll be in the detention home with Jerry and Sam.

"I tried to clean up the house for you. I won't see you until about four years from now.

"Take care of yourself, Mom, and if you get married again, try to get along, will you?

"Tell Daddy I wanted something. We went out to get it and got caught—except me so far—so I'm looking for them to come anytime now.

"Come and see me on Saturdays.

"Love

Del"

Police cruisermen said they found the boy in bed, the note lying on the kitchen table, and the boy's mother not home.

Board Requests Address Changes

Registrants for draft should be sure to notify the Richland County Selective Service office when they change their addresses, Mrs. Leah Maxwell, selective service clerk, said today.

Many of the registrants fail to do so, thereby complicating processing, she said. Men may call in changes of address; the number of the draft office is 2473-6.

Boys, Dogs In Kiddies' New Books

There Are Stories Of Roosters, Too

By Library Staff Member

New kiddies' books at the Mansfield library tell of a boy's troubles with school buses, city life, a dog, and a rooster.

There are many children in Mansfield who ride to school on the school bus. Almost all the children who live in the country ride on buses. All of these children will like the story of ANDY AND THE SCHOOL BUS.

Andy wanted the bus to stop for him but it didn't. It whizzed right past him. One wonderful day it stopped—but the next day it whizzed right past him again. Jerrold Beim has written about a little boy who wanted very badly to go to school.

Many books have been written about how grand it is to live in the country, play in the fields and wade in the brooks. Not so many books make the city sound nice, but ALL AROUND THE TOWN by Phyllis McKinley, does just that. It is an alphabet book about the fascinating places to be seen and things to be done in a big city.

ROCKY SUMMER is about Massachusetts and the Finnish speaking Americans. It is about a boy and his first job, about a horse, a rooster that was buried and came up to crow again, and there is a mystery and strange man in it. It is a good family story with work and trying to get out of work, with fun and sharing in it.

RAFF, by Ferdinand Rechnitzer, is another dog story by the author of "Bonny's Boy". It tells of a boy and a dog, how Bruce bought Raff from his own father at an auction, how they loved each other and of the accident that separated them. It tells how Raff traveled the country, meeting both friendly people and vicious ones. It tells how Bruce searched and searched for him, and came heartbreakingly close, only to miss him. It tells, too, of their final coming together and of Raff's success and prize winning performances as a bird dog.

A book for all people of all ages, that should be in every child's bookcase is Gladys Adshead's, INHERITANCE OF POETRY. Here is a book for reading aloud, quiet prayer-like poems for bedtime reading, jolly ones to meet a light mood, poems for quoting, for saying, "Listen to this!"

Leta Wadsworth's BAMBOO KEY is another of her mystery stories. It began when Scott took his brother's place doing Jules Linderman's chores. He arrived and found the house empty, much evidence of an attack by someone on someone. Scott was alone for some time, and what with unlocked doors through which anyone could (and did) come, mysterious sounds from the attack he had a pretty harrowing time. The reader will, too.

Lad, 9, Saves Three Brothers

TROY, Pa. —(AP)— Nine-year-old Laverne Finnerty raced into a flame-swept farmhouse and pushed three brothers to safety through a first-floor window. But he couldn't reach another brother and sister who died in the blaze.

Nine children and three adults were asleep in the two-story house at nearby Columbia cross roads when fire of an unknown origin broke out before dawn yesterday.

Produce Rocket Planes Able To Fly 1350 Miles Per Hour

CLEVELAND — (UP) — Four X-1-A rocket planes capable of flying an estimated 1350 miles an hour are being produced by the Bell Aircraft Corp. at Buffalo, N. Y., Lawrence Bell, the firm's president, said today.

The new research planes will be 70 per cent faster than the original X-1 and carry 50 per cent more fuel, he said.

The X-1 was the first plane to fly faster than the speed of sound. Its approximate speed, a closely guarded air force secret for more than a year, was confirmed as 100 miles an hour greater than the speed of sound by Air Secretary W. Stuart Symington last September. The speed of sound is 760 miles an hour at sea level.

Bell said the new rocket planes will be used by the air force for research on ballastics and armament problems. They will cost $700,000 each to build, he added.

Poultry Expert To Speak Thursday

M. C. Sweet, extension poultryman of Ohio State university, will be the main speaker at the fourth young couple's school to be held Thursday at 8 p. m. in the Common Pleas courtroom.

County Agent C. N. McGrew said Sweet will speak on the marketing of farm produce, with emphasis on poultry marketing. Sweet also is expected to talk on preparing poultry for freezing.

Eviction Fight Leader Threatened By Mysterious Woman

Association Plans Huge Campaign

Rent Battle Gains Speed

TULSA — (UP) — The Rev. Wallace J. Murphy, who started the "Tulsa plan" for mass evictions in protest against rent controls, said today that he was "not disturbed" by the threat of a mysterious woman who said she was "going to kill him."

Mrs. Roy Sheldon, wife of the president of the Tulsa property Owners association, of which Murphy is executive secretary, said the woman called the association office and asked for Murphy. When told that he was not in, Mrs. Sheldon said that the woman warned:

"He'd better not be in, because I'm going to kill him."

Murphy has been at his home since he suffered a heart attack last Thursday. He said he has had many calls "berating" him for his campaign to evict renters, but that this was the first time his life was threatened.

Meanwhile, the National Association of Property Owners announced at Kansas City that it will raise $1,000,000 to "educate the people to the true facts about rent control" if controls are extended.

Thurman L. McCormick, executive director of the national group, said that the group planned an annual $1 assessment of each unit of rental property owned by member landlords.

He estimated that 750,000 rental units in the nation have been withdrawn from the rental market in protest against rent controls, about 300,000 of them by members of the 18-month-old association.

"This will snowball and no one will be able to see where it will stop unless something is done," McCormick said. We're not interested in gouging our tenants, but we do expect a fair return for our investment.

"The government does not have the right to tell landlords to whom to rent," he said. "Nor does the association have the right to tell landlords not to rent. However, the association can recommend to the landlords not to rent."

Another campaign was started in Chicago by the National Home and Property Owners foundation, which charged in a letter to President Truman that rent controls mean "confiscation, liquidation, loss of our property, and eventual government ownership of everything."

The Milwaukee Property Owners association voted last night for individual members to send out eviction notices as the Tulsa landlords did to 1,000 tenants last week.

Find Wreckage Of B-29 But No Survivors

LAS PALMAS, Canary Islands (AP)—A Spanish naval commander announced today the discovery of wreckage believed to be part of an American B-29 Super Fortress missing since Thursday. He said no survivors had yet been found.

The commander said he received a radio message from a Belgian ship reporting the wreckage was located just before midnight last night at a Canaries and Gibraltar.

The Belgian message said a number of life preservers and some wreckage were picked up but no signs of either survivors or victims had been sighted.

Car Owner Identified

Identity of the owner of a hit-skip car which injured Wilbur N. Smith, 28, of Shelby, R. D. 1, early Monday on Springmill road, has been "definitely identified," according to Cpl. J. L. Bishop, head of the Mansfield state highway patrol post.

Cpl. Bishop identified the owner as a Butler man. The motorist was traced, Bishop said, through an auto license number supplied by witnesses to the accident.

The patrol head said investigation of the accident will continue on the suspect's return from a trip.

Smith suffered a compound fracture of the right lower leg when the hit-skip car sideswiped Smith's motorcycle. The accident, patrolmen said, occurred one-half mile north of Mansfield at approximately 5:45 a. m. Monday.

Smith's condition remained "fair" today at General hospital.

Birds Stay In 'Warm' Ohio

With Jackson, Miss., reporting five inches of snow and 22 degree temperatures, hundreds of usually bigratory birds have decided to stay in "warm Ohio" for the winter.

Joseph Dune, 135 South Glenn avenue, reported today that a large robin has appeared in his back yard every day since Friday. Dune, who feeds hungry sparrows, said the robin was quite bold, approaching very close to get bread crumbs.

And out at the Clear Fork dam, partly filled with rain water, hundreds of Canadian ducks are swimming around icy water. These birds normally fly south for the winter, but this year, they seem to feel that Ohio is warmer than the land below the Mason-Dixon line.

Clearings, Postal Revenue Off

Post-Holiday Slump Reflected In Report

Bank clearings and postal receipts took their customary January slumps last month, reports from the Mansfield Clearing House association and Acting Postmaster Curtis L. Ford showed today.

Bank clearings in Mansfield totaled $20,837, 529, less than the December total but more than a million dollars over the $19,484,568 cleared in January of last year.

Clearings for December were $22,532,681, the second highest month of the year. The amount in July, $23,355,152, was highest for the year. October and November clearings were $20,968,593 and $20,984,270, respectively.

H. A. McElhaney, of the Richland Trust company has been elected president of the Clearing House association, succeeding Barney M. Banks, of the Mansfield Savings Trust National bank, John Brandt, of the Farmers bank, was elected vice president, and Robert Charles, of the Mansfield Savings Trust National bank, secretary-manager.

Postal receipts for January were $54,863 compared with $71,445 for December. However, Ford said, the figure for the first month of 1949 was $8,986 higher than the receipts for January, 1948 He said it was a record January for the post office.

According to post office records, January was the 39th consecutive month receipts have shown an increase over the corresponding month for the preceding year. The bulk of the month's business was in metered mail—$21,773, compared with $14,473 in January, 1948.

GOP Readies Vote Drive

WASHINGTON — (UP) — House Republicans are planning their own "give 'em hell" campaign aimed at selling the GOP record in Congress to the voters, it was learned today.

They said it will be the biggest public relations and vote-inviting drive in the history of Congress.

House GOP Leader Joseph W Martin jr, denied that the idea stems directly from President Truman's "give 'em hell" election campaign in which he ripped into the record of the Republican 80th Congress. But Martin admitted the President's campaign tactics did give impetus to the plan.

He said the campaign is designed to let the people know what the Republican congressmen are doing. Martin doesn't think the record of the last congress was adequately defended, although he isn't blaming anyone in particular. But he said he doesn't intend to let it happen in 1950.

Dr. Hesser, Rail Foreman, Organize Men's Chorus

By MRS. R. L. HOFFMAN
(N-J State Correspondent)

CRESTLINE—About a year ago T. D. Hoffman, foreman of the Pennsylvania railroad engine house here, conceived the idea of organizing a chorus of railroad employes here.

He discussed the plan with Dr. Ernest G. Hesser, formerly director of music at New York university, and the public schools in Baltimore. Dr. Hesser recently retired from his music work in the east to establish his home here in his native Crestline.

As a result of their conversations the Pennsylvania Railroad Men's Chorus was organized. Its personnel is not limited to railroad employes and the present membership, in excess of 50, includes business and professional men in this community.

They rehearse weekly in the local high school under Dr. Hesser's direction. Mrs. Lucille Morrow Pennington, supervisor of music in the local public schools, is accompanist.

The Men's Chorus has presented three concerts here. The mitial one was for the Pennsylvania railroad safety rally in the high school auditorium on April 26. The splendid safety record the railroad had compiled prompted a celebration and attracted many Pennsylvania railroad officials.

The second appearance was a benefit concert for the newly formed Crestline Historical society. It found the high school auditorium with an overflow audience.

Another benefit concert marked its last appearance It was for the local high school band and found band soloists sharing in the concert's spotlight.

Out of town engagements are being arranged. The next concert will be presented in nearby Leesville on next Sunday, Feb.

6. The men enjoy the experience of singing under Dr. Hesser's leadership. Following is the personnel of the Men's Chorus:

Cites Need Of Turnpike

COLUMBUS — (INS) — Turnpike proponents contended today that Ohio must either raise taxes for the highway purposes or authorize private construction of turnpikes to keep abreast of the highway systems of other states.

James R. Marker, of Columbus, asserted also before the Senate Highway committee that "private capital can build a major highway cheaper and quicker than any public agency."

If the state or the federal government ever wished, he told the committe which is considering the bill to give private interests the right to condemn land for toll superhighway purposes, the bonds could be retired by either government and the toll highway made a regular free highway.

These newly formed clubs are a part of the YMCA stepped-up program to include boys of all ages in some "Y" activity. The clubs are under the direct supervision of Robert W. Sehmidt, YMCA director of youth activities.

The clubs at the two junior highs are known as Junior High Hi-Y clubs and prepare boys for membership in the Hi-Y club at Senior high school. The clubs now in operation at six of the grade schools are primarily designed to familiarize the boys with the functions and facilities of the YMCA, and how they can make best use of them.

These grade school clubs are known as Gra-Y clubs and most of them meet once a week at their respective schools after classes have been dismissed for the day. The West Fifth Street school group meets at the "Y" at 1:30 p. m. on Fridays. Other schools now participating in the program and their meeting days are: Hedges, meets on Mondays after school; Brinkerhoff, Tuesday; Newman, Wednesday; Bowman, Thursday, and Woodland, Friday.

Other grade schools eventually will be brought into the program as soon as adult leadership is obtained for the groups, "Y" officials said.

Advisers for the junior high groups are Gene Bradley and Charles Hornbrook for Johnny Appleseed and the John Simpson groups, respectively. Both men have been active in YMCA youth activities for the past several years.

Burglar Fails To Break Lock

An attempted breaking and entering at Lee and Cady, Inc., 19 East Second street, was reported to police today by the manager of the concern. Charles P. Robnolte.

He said between 5 p. m. yesterday and 7:45 a. m. someone pried off the lock on the front door, but was unable to gain entrance due to a second lock that had to be opened from the inside.

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

PAGE FOUR MANSFIELD, OHIO, TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 1, 1949

Today starts the shortest month, with no extra day thrown in for good measure this year.

Anyhow, the past couple of days have given children proof that those Christmas sleds are not entirely useless.

An observer comments: "In Washington, as the days grow longer, so does the cocktail hour—so where's the gain?"

What Would Meeting Accomplish?

JUST WHAT, if anything, could be accomplished by the suggested meeting of President Truman and Premier Stalin for a "talk" designed to lessen the tension between the United States and Russia, is not clear.

The positions of both countries, on various controversial points, have been authoritatively stated a number of times, and past meetings between the heads of the two countries have been so unsatisfactory, from the U. S. viewpoint, as to inspire little confidence in the outcome of another.

It appears that on this occasion Premier Stalin went no further than to say he had "no objection" to a meeting with President Truman, which at least evidences no enthusiasm. On the other hand, the President has merely indicated willingness to meet Stalin in Washington—rather than traveling to some distant place, as was done at earlier conferences.

As to issuance of a joint declaration against intention to resort to war, Stalin is quoted as having replied: "The Soviet government would be prepared to consider the issuance of such a declaration"—which could mean little or much, depending on Russia's attitude toward qualifications interposed as obstacles to peaceful settlement of differences in Europe and Asia.

While it may be anticipated that the United States will continue to avail itself of every chance to reach a friendly understanding with Russia, there are certain inviolable principles of democracy which must not be disregarded and the aggressive course of Moscow-inspired communism must be stopped, either by agreement or by the unified force of countries that are free, or aspire to freedom.

'Exceptions' Would Weaken Plan

ALMOST before the ink was dry on proposals to give the President power to reorganize the executive branch of the government, in the interests of efficiency and better service, members of Congress were drawing up lists of agencies they want exempted.

A well-taken point is made by Lindsay C. Warren, the controller general. He told a House committee that if any exceptions were made in the authority to reorganize, the gates would be opened to a flood of requests for such exceptions. Probably every department and agency of government could find some friends in Congress who would offer amendments to protect that particular office.

It would be no way to reorganize government. The job should be thorough. If there are any offices which are so efficient and praiseworthy that they should not be disturbed, they should be let alone. But that should be decided in the course of detailed examination of government by competent, unprejudiced authority. The Hoover Commission, which qualifies as such an authority, has not yet suggested any exceptions.

Effort To Abolish Death Penalty

IT APPEARS that once again a bill has been introduced in the Ohio legislature proposing to abolish capital punishment in this state, as has been attempted from time to time without success.

Thus far only seven of the forty-eight states have discarded the death penalty for premeditated murder, and in Michigan, where life imprisonment is the most severe penalty, agitation is for restoration of capital punishment as a result of experiences in which even the most atrocious crimes subject the perpetrators to no more than imprisonment for life, at public expense.

In some states where life imprisonment is the most severe penalty for murder, death by hanging is prescribed if the prisoner kills someone else while serving a life term.

While Kentucky's penalty for murder is death by electrocution, hanging is specified for the crime of rape. The federal government's penalty for murder is hanging, with provision that the sentence may be executed in the manner prescribed in the state in which the crime is committed.

While opposition to capital punishment is based on the idea that it is wrong to deliberately end a human life, it can also be argued that the death penalty does no more than exterminate a vicious animal that chanced to have appeared on earth in human form but with retention of jungle traits.

It seems unlikely that Ohio legislators will be seriously impressed by the present effort to substitute life imprisonment for the death penalty in cases of premeditated murder.

Two Totally Different 'Isms'

"THERE is no difference between socialists and communists," is a frequent comment by opponents of both. It would be hard to find as short a sentence that is so completely wrong.

It would be more correct to say, "There are no more bitter enemies than socialists and communists." Wherever the communists have come into power, the first group that they have tried to kill off has been the socialists. They do not have the same ideas or the same goals, and do not get along together.

This is another stage at which things seem to be going along right happily for Orphan Annie—but keep watching.

It is announced that White House repairs will cost "more than expected"—just as was to be expected.

What Some Other People Are Saying

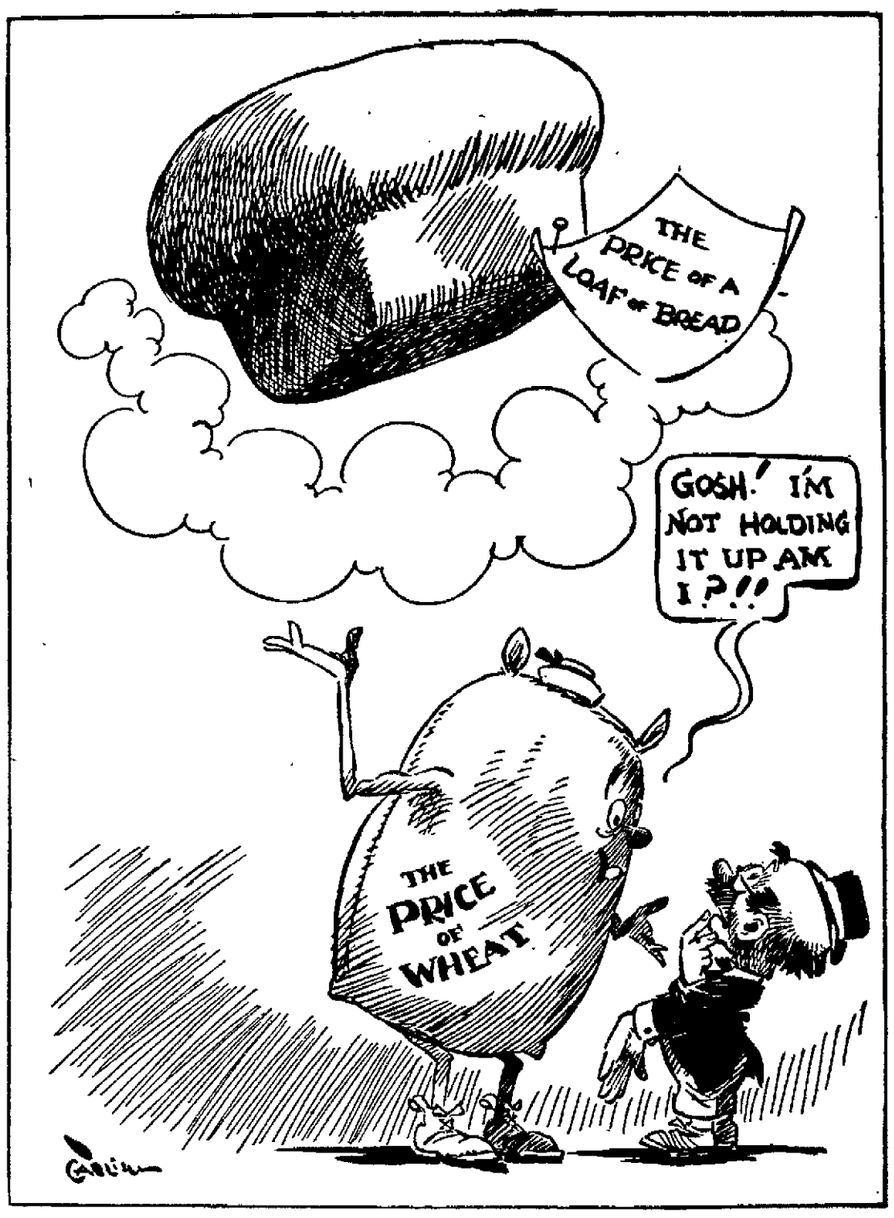
SEN. BRIDGES (R) N. H.: "President Roosevelt originally betrayed China at Yalta, and President Truman has kept China sold down the river. Any conference should be aimed at getting the stench of our treatment of China out of our nostrils."

* * *

AFL President WILLIAM GREEN.: "The AFL will back most of President Truman's proposals for regulating labor-management relations, but the administration's 'package' labor program will have to be revised to attract full labor support."

* * *

SEN. SPARKMAN (D) Ala.: "My vote on the labor bill will not be dependent upon what somebody else does on other legislation, but human nature is human nature and if there is a fight (on filibuster rules) it naturally will effect other legislation."



Without Visible Means of Support.

Raymond Moley's Analysis

Pension Plans and Wages Being Mixed

FOR the third successive month the government's retail price index has shown a decline. But we are seeing on all sides evidence that this barometer is already far behind the facts.

It takes two months to complete this complex statistical formula, and in many lines the law of supply and demand operates with incredible speed. So the real drop is probably much greater than the government figures indicate.

This steady flattening out of the inflationary boom is causing hasty changes in plans, both in the White House and in the headquarters of many unions.

The President says that he has sent his economic advisers back to their figuring to get him another report. The elaborate report of three weeks ago is already somewhat dated.

In the labor field a broad shift of policy is under way. The hardy perennial, John L. Lewis, will bloom less lustily this year. Mother Nature has provided a mild winter for the eastern market, with less coal burning.

Coal exports are cut because Europe is producing more and more coal of its own. A coal strike in such a situation would be a foolish and costly blunder.

With frantic clothing sales blazened in every store, the garment workers have decided against a new round of wage demands.

The United Auto Workers are shifting their emphasis from wages to pensions. Automobile dealers are having some trouble selling less popular makes of cars, and various forms of discounts on high-priced cars are reported.

Walter Reuther is following the formula of John L. Lewis, but is a year behind. He is aiming at the broad schedule of benefits gained by the miners, with pensions in the foreground.

* * *

Questions Are Raised.

THIS DEMAND, which will certainly spread to other strongly unionized industries, raises fundamental questions. The first is a question of economic principle.

Is a pension to be regarded as a substitute for wages, which in any competitive system vary from time to time and from industry to industry?

Are such plans to be administered by the company or by the union? Are they to be paid for by the company directly as a charge against production or are they to assume the form of a royalty payment on each car or ton of steel or what-not? And what relationship will exist between such pensions and government-supported plans?

A still more fundamental question arises: Are the workers in industries in which workers have superior means of paralyzing the community to become a pension elite?

This is certainly true of railway employes, coal miners and utility workers. There is an issue of justice in this.

If such favorably placed unions are to enjoy a monopolistic position, should the government, representing all less favored workers, make up the difference through taxation?

All these questions should be considered when, as is promised, the President places before Congress his plans for broadening and increasing social security in this session of Congress.

Civilian Influence Gains

By THOMAS L. STOKES

WASHINGTON—A gradual lessening of military influence in the shaping of our foreign policy is expected under the new secretary of state, Dean Acheson, who succeeds a military man, General George Marshall.

While at his first press conference he went on further than to say, in answer to an inquiry, that discussions still are going on about putting Germany and Japan under civilian control, the trend of the administration is toward a shift of direction from the military to the civilian all along the line.

This is at the instance of President Truman, himself, who hence will assume management of broad policy.

In the shift of emphasis from the military to the civilian the administration will get support from an important Republican quarter, John Foster Dulles, who has some very positive ideas about the necessity of a different approach that comes from his own experience in diplomatic negotiations.

Secretary Acheson expects to work closely with Mr. Dulles, Senator Vandenberg (Mich.) and other Republican leaders in continuation of the bi-partisan agreement of recent years.

One of the first replacements of a military man by a civilian is likely to be in the post of ambassador to Russia, from which General Walter Bedell Smith is due to retire in the near future.

It is expected also that General Lucius D. Clay will relinquish his post as U. S. military governor in Germany, though how soon this will occur probably will depend upon developments in that area of tension.

* * *

Gives Wrong Impression.

A VIEWPOINT expressed in one high and responsible quarter here is that because of their ability and their prestige, both General Clay in Germany and General Douglas MacArthur in Japan tend to accentuate those areas out of proportion to their importance in the whole-world picture.

As important as removing military men from occupancy of what are actually diplomatic posts is an increase of authority for the state department, itself, which has come to play a secondary role in some foreign policy matters and decisions.

That department now shares authority jointly with the national military establishment in occupied areas, though the latter seems to have preponderant influence.

Another over-all criticism, which was voiced by the Hoover Commission's committee on the national security organization, among others, was expressed by that committee as follows: "To far too great an extent, the unilateral aims and policies of the military services are combining to make the strategy they are supposed to serve, and the strategy is tending to make the national policy."

This situation is due to get attention in the realignment of the mechanics of foreign policy.

If it is worked out as indicated that will mean that Secretary Acheson's influence will be increased at the expense of Secretary of Defense James Forrestal who has been powerful.

The new secretary of state put the President's program in its proper perspective by emphasizing that it is a long-range program, not something for the next three or four months, but a project to be carried on through the tenure of this administration.

It is a new direction in foreign policy, and can be rightly judged only in that way.

Webb Planned To Take University Job

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Not many people know it, but President Truman had a hard time persuading Jimmy Webb, then director of the budget, to become undersecretary of state.

Webb, whose job of whittling down the budget, is one of the toughest in the government, had received several lush offers to return to private business.

Tom Morgan, head of Sperry Gyroscope, offered him $35,000. Clay Williams of Reynolds Tobacco made him an equally attractive offer, while a big chemical company in New York also put in a bid.

However, the job which appealed to Webb most would have paid him much less. It came from an old friend whom Webb greatly respected—Frank Graham, president of the University of North Carolina.

While Graham was in the Dutch East Indies trying to iron out the Indonesian civil war, he scribbled a note in longhand to Webb asking him to become dean of the North Carolina school of business.

The salary was about half what private firms offered him—$15,000. But this was the job Webb was planning to take when President Truman finally persuaded him to become undersecretary of state.

PRESIDENT TRUMAN, who always sports a neat crease in his trousers, won't stand for a crease in his coat sleeves. Always an expert on men's haberdashery, he believes in a smooth, rounded sleeve — no wrinkles and no crease. . . . One artist, who did a portrait of the President, was requested by the chief executive to "kindly paint out those creases in the sleeves." . . . The President dictates so fast that his confidential secretary, Rose Conway, has abandoned shorthand and now uses a stenotype machine to keep up with her boss. . . . Back in the 1890's the great Polish patriot-pianist, Jan Ignace Paderewski, paid a visit to Independence, Mo. While there, he took time out to give a piano lesson to an awe-struck youngster named Harry Truman. Later Paderewski became President of Poland and his piano pupil became President of the United States. . . . One of the biggest guessing games in Washington revolves around the question of why Ed Bacher, executive director of the Republican national committee, has a machine attached to his telephone to record conversations. It's generally agreed he's not trying to catch Democrats off guard. Beyond that, it's anybody's guess.

Man Bites Dog!

BELIEVE it or not, a butter producer is now lobbying for oleomargarine — not against it. Senators are blinking their eyes over a letter which Kingsdale Dairies of New York City is circulating on Capitol Hill.

Under a letterhead advertising "for bettering the buttering habits of the nation," Kingsdale Dairies confesses: "While we have a vital interest in butter, we believe we have nothing to fear from the removal of the oleomargarine taxes nor even from the removal of color restrictions — provided, of course, the margarine is not fraudulently foisted on the American people as butter. We feel that the danger of such fraud is small.

"That a large segment of the American people want oleomargarine needs no demonstration, and that they want it colored is now amply evidenced by their demand, at extra cost, for the new type bag which permits easy coloring by the housewife.

"To favor one industry by restricting another is not in our opinion compatible with democracy nor is it in the best interest of all business as a whole, or of the American people.

"We respectfully urge your support on any legislation that will free oleomargarine from its present restrictions."

In the flood of mail that deluges Capitol Hill, such a letter—lobbying against the sender's interests for the public good—is rare indeed. Congratulations!

* * *

Senator Ball's Censorship.

THE Democrats are about to take the wraps off a report that was kept in mothballs while the Republicans were still in power on Capitol Hill.

It is a survey on how the Tennessee Valley Authority has been getting along with labor. The Republicans intended it to be an unfavorable report and sent an investigator into the Tennessee Valley looking for trouble. Instead, the agent found TVA humming and labor putting its shoulder to the wheel.

The man who initiated this investigation and tried to blast TVA was ex-Senator Joe Ball of Minnesota and ex-chairman of the joint labor-management relations committee. He ordered staff investigator Alexander Christie to turn TVA upside down and bring back the facts.

That's exactly what Christie did. But when his report turned out to be a boomerang, praising TVA instead of knocking it, Ball let the report gather dust on his shelf.

Whereupon Christie burned up, shoed the report to Democratic Senator James Murray of Montana who has now promised publication.

The Nation Today

With Pravda as Model

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON — If American scientists and editors were doing what Russian scientists and editors have been doing, they'd be telling Americans something like this:

Americans invented the bow-and-arrow, the Pyramids, the Roman chariot, the wheel, the horse, sex, daytime, thunder and lightning, and old age.

Russian scientists and editors have told their people: Russians flew the first airplane, and Russians were first with the telephone, radio, electric lighting, the parachute, steamship engines, and a Russian was playing around with a lightning rod before Ben Franklin.

If the American Democratic party were like the Russian Communist party, it would have its own newspaper and be attacking Broadway drama critics with:

"You are a gang of hamamelidaceous, anti-American deflationists, bent upon nugatory evaluations, opaque to the circumstantiality of the American character, and full of endocentric constructions.

"You have had the criminality to doubt that Americans are always heroes and always are victorious. Besides that, you have a bad habit of quoting Shakespeare."

Pravda, official paper of the Communist party in Russia, has just opened up on Russia's theater critics with a front-page attack which said:

"An anti-patriotic group of vestiges from bourgeois esthetics has formed in theatrical circles."

The paper said such critics must be wiped out of the field of art and it called them a few names:

"Anti-patriotic parasites," "aesthetizing nonentities," bearers of "repulsive cosmopolitanism," and soulless maligners and prattlers of "inflated self-opinions," full of "liberal connivance."

* * *

According To Orders.

PRAVDA complained the critics openly objected to seeing Soviet heroes in Russian plays always victorious.

And some of these critics, said Pravda, had the gall to compare present-day Russian plays with the old Russian classics, giving the oldtimers the better of it.

And if the American politicians on the Democratic national committee, which runs the Democratic party, were like the communist politicians on their party's central committee, they'd call in American songwriters and composers and tell them:

"The trend away from capitalistic ideology toward socialism must be reversed. The latest concoction. 'Slow Boat to China,' is a subversive distortion of capitalism's ability to produce nothing but fast boats to China.

"Further, to restore the American people to a proper recognition of the blessings of capitalism, you henceforth must represent the American price system as the underlying philosophy of American ideology.

"Therefore, all songs written in the next five years shall be called 'I Found a Million Dollar Baby In the Five - and - ten cent Store. Either that, or return to old folk songs like 'Oh, Dem Golden Slippers.'"

The Communist party's central committee has called for more emphasis on Russian folk music and has condemned Russia's top composers, among the best in the world, for a "vicious, formalistic trend against the people."

The committee came out flat-footedly against "survivals of bourgeois ideology nurtured by the influence of modern decadent music of western Europe and America."

The various Russian attacks and claims are just part of a growing list of unsupported claims, or attacks on their own outstanding Russian people.

Guns and Butter.

An agricultural expert at the University of Illinois notes that while 15 years ago the average per capita butter consumption in the United States was 18 pounds, it is down to approximately nine pounds per person today. Increased use of cheaper-priced substitutes accounts for the decline.

In 1934, the United States still was in the throes of depression. Today the nation is enjoying a tremendous inflation-born prosperity. Yet the average American apparently can afford only half as much butter.

Fifteen years ago, military expenditures, pensions and veterans' affairs accounted for only a small fraction of the federal budget. In 1949, three-fourths of all government appropriations will go to pay for past wars and to prepare for the next one.—Columbus Dispatch.

Farmer's Diary

How Our Land Is Used

By CALVIN A. BYERS

"AGRICULTURE uses 82% of all land. Cities only 1%" declares the latest bulletin of the Institute of Life Insurance, interested to promote the welfare and security of the American family.

Our country, although one of the most populous nations, is still one of "wide open spaces." With a population rapidly approaching the 150-million mark, 90 million live in cities or towns. In contrast, more than four-fifths of the total land area is used in agriculture, either for cultivated crops or grazing livestock.

Land is this nation's greatest natural resource. From the long view, the use and care of the land involve the well-being and progress of the nation and every family in it.

Out of the 1905 million acres in the land area of United States, only 15 million acres are urban—and there the majority of Americans live. Even in the industrialized areas, the population density is more apparent than real. There is still plenty of room for healthful living.

The farm land comes to 1142 million acres—60 percent of the total. In addition 178 million acres of open or non-forested pasture and 250 million acres of forest land are grazed outside farms. This adds up to about 1.570 million acres used for agricultural purposes—over 82% of our land area.

Somewhat over 400 million acres are used for crop raising. Nearly half the cropland is in the nine states of the Northern Plains and Corn Belt. Authorities estimate that crop acreage could be increased one fourth if necessary. In view of the rapidly growing population, this is significant. A third of our total land area is in forests . . 36% in the West and 32% in the South.

Land-born knowledge percolates slowly into the stream of the city man's thinking. He is beginning to see that the land is more precious than he had supposed. Present trends are toward larger farms—and smaller ones. Many "homesteaders" find a few acres—or even one acre—enough of space for a part-time avocation, and "lots of living." Many farmers find it possible to cultivate more acres with modern tools, and so extend their boundaries.

QUALITY rather than quantity of food produced is the coming thing—and better food promises to give Americans better health, more brains, longer lives and more joy in living. The farm outlook is optimistic.

Charges Movie Executive Would Get Rake-off On Indies Trade

MATTHEW FOX, 37 years old, a Hollywood movie executive, has become chairman of the board of a Delaware company which aspires to the position of business partner, business agent, political agent and, in a manner of speaking foreign relations department of a new, independent nation in Indonesia. His company and government-to-be of this proposed nation would get five per cent on imports and exports.

Fox, personally, certainly is the partner of a group of native politicians, possibly but not necessarily patriots of the highest principle who have the audacity to call themselves the between 60 and 70 million people. Fox's company is called the American - Indonesian Corporation.

The recent uproar in the American press against the action of the Dutch government in descending on centers of Sumatra and Java with troops who took "police action" has been of incidental great comfort and may eventually prove to have been of great financial benefit to Fox and his company.

The Dutch thought this American clamor about "democracy" and "freedom" helped communist military leaders of the Indonesian revolutionary troops.

One of the Dutchmen in New York, an agent of the Netherlands government registered with our state department, said the revolutionary troops were being led by native communists who were trained in Russia for conquest of the islands in the interest of Russia.

★

THE TROOPS under these leaders were trained by the Japanese during the war. Fox's venture cannot succeed unless the revolutionaries win their fight against the Dutch. However, he seems to have no sympathy with the communists and he claims that they have little or no influence in the military situation. The Fox interests just happen to coincide with those of the communists in the present phase. The great emotional outcry of editorials, cosmic opinionarians and radio pundits in sympathy with the natives of Indonesia was fine for the Fox corporation, which has a contract with the provisional native government.

An eminent eastern lawyer, an early New Dealer, since become an opponent of much of the Roosevelt-Truman course, after careful study of the text of this contract, gave his professional opinion that it was a fantastic arrangement "strongly reminiscent of the Sixteenth century when private companies were authorized under government charter to enjoy monopolistic privileges in colonial exploitation."

This is the more interesting because Fox professes to be and apparently believes himself to be a generous and humane agent of liberation and reform in the Dutch East Indies.

His contract was drawn by Eugene Garey, a New York lawyer, an old Al Smith Democrat who also broke with the New Deal.

Garey, whom I have known for a long time, arranged a visit in his office in wall street at which for about two hours Fox discussed himself, his company, his war career and his successful career in the moving picture business as chairman of the board of universal.

When we had finished and I was putting my papers together, Mr. Garey said, "now don't you be trying to interpret that contract yourself and getting mistaken notions. Anything you want explained, call me up and I will straighten you out."

I reminded him that his would not be an objective opinion. I had already discussed the contract in a general way with a Washington lawyer who had taken part in some government suits to break monopolies in natural resources. This man had said: "This is the most predatory contract I ever saw in my life. It grants a monopoly on everything imported from the United States including the American merchandise under the E. C. A. It throws all our resources as a nation behind the exploiter."

Merger Vote On Churches Due Friday

Rev. Madden Attends Cleveland Session

Rev. Matthew G. Madden, pastor of the First Congregational church, will leave Friday for Cleveland, where he will attend a special session of the General Council of the church, called to give a final vote on the proposed merger of the Christian Congregational and the Evangelical and Reformed churches.

Rev. Madden will go to Cleveland as a delegate from the Mansfield and Lucas churches.

The Friday meeting will be the outgrowth of the voting by individual churches throughout the country and the biennial General Council held at Oberlin last summer.

At the Oberlin meeting it was announced that only 65 per cent of the individual churches had returned a favorable vote for the merger. At least 75 per cent was needed to make it official. However, the 1,012 delegates at an Oberlin meeting voted 1,000 to 12 in favor of the proposed step. They were instructed to return to their various parishes and if the first vote had been unfavorable to ask for a second vote.

It is the results of this second attempt to approve the step that will be presented at the Cleveland meeting. If the vote has been 75 per cent in favor and if the delegates themselves approve of the merger, it will be officially carried through.

The Evangelical and Reformed churches had approved the proposed step at the synodical meetings last spring, according to Rev. J. C. Melchert. All that is needed now, to make the merger a reality, is a favorable vote at Cleveland.

If the merger is approved, the new church will be known as the United Church of Christ. It will have nearly 2,000,000 members and is a major step in a move to merge Protestant churches.

For each of the two churches involved it will be the second merger. The Congregational-Christian churches were united in 1931; the Evangelical and Reformed in 1934.

AIRLINER STRUCK BY LIGHT PLANE—Firemen examine the shattered top of the fuselage of a Pan American Constellation Monarch of the Skies after it landed at Mitchel Field, N. Y., following a collision with a light plane over Port Washington, Long Island. The engine, propeller and other parts of the light plane were imbedded in the hull of the airliner and bodies of the two occupants of the small plane were catapulted inside the giant airliner. None of the 23 passengers or crew of ten on the London-bound plane was injured in the collision some 4,000 feet in the air, shortly after the big plane took off from La Guardia field.

SOLVES BIRD 'MYSTERY'—

The mystery of the orange sparrow apparently has been solved. Owen Galloway of State Route 178 reported shooting into a flock of sparrows a short time ago and dropping one of an orange hue. Chet McFerren suggests the bird might well have been a goldfinch which in winter assumes a dull color during the molting period. The bird also is known as a thistlebird' or 'yellowbird.' McFerren urged hunters to be cautious about shooting sparrows during the winter since the hunter may inadvertently be firing into a flock of finches.

SCOUTS INVITED—

Council To Get Measure

Plan Evaluation Of Jobs

A bill authorizing the hiring of technical and professional engineers to make an evaluation survey of all municipal jobs, at a cost of $4,000, was placed in city council's hopper today.

Tentatively scheduled for consideration by council tonight, the bill authorizes the service-safety director to employ experts to make a survey in respect to offices and positions in municipal service.

The bill is the fulfillment of a promise made by Councilman Harry Bowman last month, when the salary bill was approved by council, that such a survey would be undertaken.

City department heads have been clamoring for more than a year for a salary ordinance based on such a survey.

Last year each department head conducted such a survey in his own department and submitted it to the council salary committee for consideration.

However, for some unrevealed reason, council chose to ignore the survey and draw up a wage increase bill which granted raises of $10 a month to most employes, but gave larger increases in certain categories.

The salary bill brought on the resignation of Service-Safety Director Earl T. Garrison, effective Feb. 15. Unable to obtain an increase for himself, he charged that the salary bill was "prejudiced and discriminatory," in his own case and in other departments.

The other major item on the agenda tonight is a bill requesting the city engineer to draw up plans and estimates for the 16-unit street improvement program, sponsored by Councilman Fred Miller.

Bromfield Heads Drive

Mental Health Seal Sales Start

A seal sale campaign sponsored by the Ohio Mental Hygiene association to raise $100,000 to develop a more effective mental health program throughout the state was launched today.

Author-Farmer Louis Bromfield is chairman of the crusade committee for the two-week fund raising drive for "the mental health crusade for happiness."

Bromfield also will head a local chapter of the Mental Hygiene association, plans for which now are in the formative stage.

Dr. Harry Wain, city-county health commissioner today endorsed the campaign stating, "the need for mental health is a great problem of public health work."

Mrs. Marion S. Wells, executive secretary of the Ohio Mental Hygiene association, said funds raised through the seal sale would be used largely to inform Ohioans on facts about mental problems and to promote research and preventive work.

"Mental disorders, like physical ailments, can in many instances be corrected and have been corrected," Mrs. Wells said. "But even more important is the fact that if proper preventive methods were applied, many mental cases would never need hospitalization.

"It is about time we throw aside the veils of misconceptions and mystery which have clouded the entire field of mental health and reveal what can be and is being done to keep homes intact and from being broken because of mental breakdowns," she added.

$2,300 Contributed In Polio Fund Drive

Richland county entered its third week in the drive to raise at least $8,000 through the annual "March of Dimes" of the Infantile Paralysis Foundation with slightly more than $2,300 reported, it was announced today.

Largest single contributor has been the Park theater where Ralph Shaffer, manager, has reported nearly $500 collected to date. This is the only Mansfield theater in which collections are being made at each performance, and the plan will be continued throughout the entire drive, it was said.

"March of Dimes" boxes have been sent in from the Lucas schools, but as yet the amount has not been reported, drive officials said.

In Shelby, where a drive is being conducted by the Junior Chamber of Commerce, it is expected that from $1,000 to $1,200 will be received. Forrest Ellis, is president of the Shelby Chamber, and is being assisted in the drive by John Russell, who headed last year's Shelby campaign.

Marshall C. Moore, treasurer of the Richland county Infantile Paralysis Foundation, said today that checks from residents of Shelby and vicinity may be mailed to the Junior Chamber of Commerce president, or to Moore, whose office is located in the Richland Trust building in Mansfield.

FEW LETTERS RETURNED

Of the 5,000 letters mailed in Mansfield, Moore reported today that only about three per cent have been returned. A total of 13,000 letters were sent out to Mansfield and Richland county residents, it was said.

Of the $8,000 received in the 1948 drive, Moore reported that $4,000 was sent to the National Foundation where it was used for research and as a reserve fund for any localities in which the epidemic was reported. This year the same plan will be followed, with one half of the local funds again going to national headquarters.

From June 1, 1947 until May 31, 1948, the Richland county committee spent $4,394. There were 13 cases of polio in Mansfield and Richland county during that period.

From June 1, 1948, to the first of December last year, an additional $3,133 was spent for treatment of the six cases of infantile paralysis reported during that period, and not all these cases have completed their treatment at the present time, for which further expenditures will be necessary, Moore said.

In addition, the local Foundation sent money from the Richland county fund to a state pool during the past summer to aid other communities which were especially hard-hit by the polio epidemic.

Hardware Worker Dies

William Franklin Hauserman, 69, died Monday night at his home, 36 Blanche street, following a three-week illness.

Mr. Hauserman was born Nov. 24, 1879 at Windsor, moving to Mansfield when a young man. For the past 42 years he had been employed by the Martin Hardware company. Mr. Hauserman was a member of the First Methodist church.

Surviving are his wife, Violet I. Hauserman; two sons, Paul I. teacher at Senior high school, and William R., both of Mansfield; a sister, Miss Elizabeth Hauserman of Cleveland and a brother, Vern F. Hauserman of Mansfield.

Funeral services will be held at the Wappner funeral home at 1:30 p. m. Thursday with Rev. Charles W. Stoneburner, pastor of the First Methodist church, officiating. Burial will be in the Windsor cemetery.

Driver Injured As Autos Crash

George A. Mead, 75, of 65 Blymyer avenue, suffered a fractured collarbone yesterday afternoon when the car he was driving was struck by a car driven by Edward Hobbs, of Cleveland, police said.

The accident occurred at East Fourth and Elm streets Mead, attempted a left turn onto Fourth street, and his car struck by Hobbs, who was unable to stop in time because of the slippery pavement.

South's Happy Over Industrial Progress While Arguing 'Rights'

What's on people's minds in the South?

Boom times, state's rights, and the fact a mild winter brought the flowers out too early.

Everybody down that way is happy over the way things are a-building. They are arguing among themselves about Harry Truman's civil rights program and what it may mean to them. And they all agree it's a blooming pity the way the camellias and azaleas are petaling ahead of time.

"By the time our regular flower festivals come there won't be anything left on the bushes," they mourn. In the south they take their festivals seriously. The love of flowers there has almost a religious quality.

And it's a wise visitor from the north who keeps the conversation on camellias — and keeps his own mouth shut about civil rights versus state's rights.

★

THE REASON a damyankee shouldn't open his yap on this issue is that the south regards it as a family problem. If he starts talking about it, they jump on him together.

But if the outsider just sits back and listens—well, then he can hear the dissension that exists within the southern family. And he learns a lot.

I heard one Dixiecrat say frankly:

"I don't agree one bit with Truman's program. But I will admit this much: It is putting pressure on us to do faster the things we all want to do. It's making us prove the south can really solve its own problems. And we are solving them, too."

A STALWART Alabama Dixiecrat during a hotel room discussion opined that the north just didn't understand the fundamental problem.

"They can't understand the difference between segregation and discrimination," he drawled with a grin. "They keep getting the two mixed up.

"Every filling station, hotel and public place everywhere has two doors. Over one door it says 'men' and over the other door it says 'women.'

"Now that's segregation, all right, but by no means is it discrimination."

★

THE LANDSCAPE of the south is changing swiftly as the increasing pace of industrialization creates new wealth. But the delightful, homely flavor of its language endures unchanged. It would be a shame if it ever did change.

When the weather there gets too warm, it's "hard down hot."

A man doesn't draw a pension from the government. He gets "rocking chair money."

If a fellow's in a tight spot, he's "caught between a rock and a hard place."

A minister says: "My salary? Oh, I get $500 a year—and the things they pound the preacher with."

People don't just say they wouldn't part with something for a million dollars. They smile and say, "I wouldn't take a purty for that."

One elderly Alabamian, requested to give the secret of his longevity, replied dryly:

"I never wasted my energy resisting temptation."

TB Hospital Far Ahead Of Schedule

Construction work on the new tuberculosis sanatorium on State Route 39, southeast of Mansfield, is three months ahead of schedule, because of favorable weather since the building was started, Dr. John S. Hattery said yesterday.

Dr. Hattery said original plans call for completion by Sept. 1, but now the building should be completed by this summer. About 40 per cent of the structure is up.

Dr. Hattery, who is chairman of the Richland County Tuberculosis Sanatorium Building commission, said the main business at the next meeting of the group will be concerned with plans for purchasing equipment for the sanatorium, such as X-Ray equipment, beds and furniture, and other hospital materials.

The goup will hold its monthly meeting at 11 a. m. Tuesday in the courthouse.

To Get Air Medal

GALION — A posthumous Air Medal award will be made to A. T. Vaughen, who resided here at 604 Cherry street, tomorrow at Fort Hayes in Columbus. During the ceremony 40 Ohio pilots who flew private planes on coastal submarine patrol during World War II will be decorated. One other posthumous award will be made.

Dr. Wain Speaks At Rural Parley

Dr. Harry Wain, city-county health commissioner, will be one of the principal speakers at the first rural health conference in northwestern Ohio, to be held tomorrow at Bowling Green State university.

The conference will study local health conditions and evolve methods for improvement.

Also on the speakers' list are Dr. John D. Porterfield, state health director, and Walter A. Zangg, chairman of the department of education at the university.

FIELD DIRECTOR DIES

COLUMBUS — (AP) — Miss Katherine M. Kaiser, 38, wartime American Red Cross field director in the southeastern United States, died here yesterday.

To Testify On Pay Bill

Common Pleas Judge G. E. Kalbfleisch, as chairman of the salary committee of the Ohio Association of Common Pleas Judges will go to Columbus tonight to appear before the Senate Judiciary committee, which is studying a measure to increase Common Pleas Judges' salaries.

The eight-member committee is to determine tonight whether to pass the bill out of committee to the Senate. Judge Kalbfleisch said the proposed bill, introduced by Sen. Ralph A. Winter from this district, would boost the salaries of one-judge counties an average of $1,250.

"The principle of the bill," the judge said, "is to equalize existing unfairness in Common Pleas Judges' salaries." The bill, if it passes, would affect the salaries of 35 judges on Feb. 8 and 41 others during the next two years.

The judge said that in the 75 counties where there is one judge, 500 cases are handled yearly for an average $5,000 a year salary. He said that, judges in the big cities receive $12,000 a year and handle 591 cases a year.

Salaries of Probate Judges have gone up to and beyond salaries of Common Pleas Judges, he said, while the salaries of Court of Appeals Judges have moved from $8,000 to $12,000 a year.

Meanwhile, Common Pleas Judges where there is but one judge are sitting in the middle "with no raise since 1904," the judge said.

Dying Wish Granted For Scout Leader

A group of Eagle Scouts who accompanied William "Jack" Hurley on many Canadian Scout expeditions served as pallbearers at his funeral services today.

One of Hurley's last requests before he died Saturday was that this group of Scouts be his pallbearers when he died. Hurley was the cook for this group of Scouts in the late 1930's on their "High Adventure" trip in Canada. He had been an active Scouter for seven years until his health forced him to retire from scouting.

Those Eagle Scouts acting as pallbearers were Edward Arlin, Morton Frankel, David Ott, Robert Meece, Richard Sowash and Floyd Dent.

Richland Farm Leaders Back 7-Point Program

Decision to re-emphasize a seven-point program of rural education and expansion in Richland county was made last night by 18 representative rural residents at the Chamber of Commerce assembly room.

The meeting was called by C N McGrew, county agent, to discuss the program for the year Among the proposals which the 18 voted to support, was the Farm club, proposed by the Mansfield Chamber of Commerce.

The seven-point program calls for more emphasis on 4-H club work; more education on a soil and water management program; expansion of the dairy herd program; better serving of the older youth and particularly their assistance to the 4-H clubs; expansion of the marketing program; and approval of the Rural Life Center and its program of expansion.

The soil conservation program will be expanded during the year so that farmers may have the benefits of a complete program of soil and water management on their farms McGrew said. This will be done chiefly through an expanded educational program.

The farm leaders voted to push more education work and approval of the decision last Friday by the Dairy Service board tie in milk testing with the central testing laboratory at Tiffin. Farmers in Richland county have been doing their own testing under the supervision of Charles Dunder. Now, their tests will be sent to Tiffin. Dunder will, however, continue his supervision of the dairy herd improvement program in this area.

In voting to support the committee appointed to discuss the Farm club idea, the representatives made it clear that they approved any step that would further relations between the urban and rural populations. The proposed Farm club was discussed at length.

The group decided to propose a better livestock program and practices and to encourage among the older youth more interest in this phase of farming.

The discussion on marketing centered, particularly, around the lamb pool at Greenwich. Efforts in this direction will be continued and an education program begun to improve the marketing program.

The 18 present last night gave their "blessing" to the Rural Life Center and promised to aid it.

Those on the committee to make initial plans for the organization of a Farm Club as a subsidiary of the Chamber of Commerce include: Guy Taylor, chairman; McGrew, Thomas Sheppard, Louis Rinehart and Burr Knaus.

Around O. S. U.'s Oval

By LARRY MURPHY, News-Journal Correspondent

COLUMBUS—During the current short winter quarter at Ohio State university, which normally has a slight decrease in enrollment from the Fall quarter, enrollment of Mansfield area students, paradoxically, increased their number.

Figures released this week during the trying time of those first indicative midterms revealed 43 additional area students admitted to the university, including five from Mansfield.

Mansfielders contributing to OSU's unofficial total enrollment of 21,979 include James E. Gardner, John L. Handley, Harriet A. Lutz, Everett L. Miller and Arthur J. Williner.

Other area students newly enrolled this quarter and listed by towns, include:

Ashland—Barbara L. Beer and Leslie E. Lindower.

Crestline—Martha J. Breech.

Loudonville—Charles N. Hiner and Frank R. Muse.

Millersburg—Shippley N. McIntosh, and (previously unreported) Fred Ludic, George Abderholden and H. H. Hummel.

Perrysville—Ross E. Duncan.

Urichsville—Dean S. Sensanbaugher.

Three Mansfielders and one Gallonite won recognition for high scholastic averages by being named to the Commerce college honor roll with a grade-point average of 3.25 or better.

Recipients of Commerce college honors were Jack A. Brollier, Jack D. Selby and Ivan J. Shellhaas, all of Mansfield, and John S. Gill of Galion.

* * *

A check of a recently released list from the Commerce college placement office turned up the names of several former students from the Mansfield area who have found employment since their graduation last quarter.

Among these is Charles Edwards of Galion, a one-time contributor to the now defunct international intellectual quarterly magazine "Cronos." Edwards was reported as having taken a turn at newspapering on the Marion Star."

Two others the placement bureau reported on were Howard Hartman of Shelby, who is working in the claims department of an insurance office there, and Mansfield's Ivan Shellhaas, reported employed at a Mansfield firm.

CAMPUS CHATTER: Dick and Jack Selby planning a week-end away from the books with a visit home. . . . Marvin Diehl and Bob Mercer talking over the Mansfield club's Christmas dance in an off-campus restaurant. . . . "Ohio State Lantern" Editor Lee Adams scoring a "beat" on the downtown Columbus papers by getting out an "extra" with complete pictures and text on Ohio State's new $5 million student union building. The forthcoming "dream building" which will be one of the finest recreational and cultural structures on any college campus, is to be completed some time in the Fall of 1951.

The regular meeting of Women's Association of the First Congregational church will be held Thursday at 1 p. m. at the parish house. Luncheon will be served, followed by a book review, "Who Walk Alone", given by Mrs. James Steele. Mrs. Willis Carto is chairman for the day. Reservations are to be made to 3402-6 by Wednesday morning.

MRS. THOMAS BLACKBURN AND TOMMY

Dorothy Kennedy Blackburn Tells of Life In Japan

By ANN SCHOENMAN

THIS STORY is written for anyone who has made the statement, "I wouldn't take my child and go to Japan for anything." This is a story about the conditions under which the army wives live in the foreign country.

Mrs. Thomas Blackburn and her seven-month-old son, Tommy, have found all sorts of luxuries in Japan. They left the States for Zama, Japan, on Christmas Eve from Seattle, Washington, to join their husband and father, 1st. Lt. Thomas Blackburn of the Army Air Corps. After spending Christmas and New Year on board ship, they landed on the island of Honshu. Zama is the west point of Japan and is situated about forty miles from Tokyo.

The 850 persons who left together from America for Japan were given a royal send off that Christmas Eve. A band was present and marched beside the ship to the end of the dock. It seems that Christmas was a poor day for those aboard for seasickness raged high among them for quite a while. The shipmates had a Christmas party, services and turkey dinner planned for the eighty-seven women and children travelers, but they were postponed due to rough weather and sickness. The remainder of the 850 personnel was made up of troops, nurses, stewards and stewardesses.

The wives and children of the men stationed in Japan were also treated as first class passengers on board ship. There were movies every night, concerts, tours of the ship, a large nursery and nurses to prepare the food for the children and take complete charge of them for the mothers.

Mrs. Blackburn has a home in Japan that would compare with any in America. On the first floor is a large living room, dining room, entrance hall, kitchen and bath. On the second floor is a bath, linen closet, two bedrooms and maid's room.

The hardwood floors have been completely carpeted, even to the winding stairway. The home is furnished with modernistic blond wood furniture, including the maid's room. There are drapes and venetian blinds for each window. The kitchen has a new electric stove and a large new American made refrigerator.

Mitzi is the maid the Army has employed for the Blackburns. She is a twenty-one-year-old Japanese, who has been trained by the Army. Mitzi has a complete physical check up every month and is always inspected for any diseases. She arrives in the morning at 8 and leaves at night after the dishes are finished.

"Mitzi washes, irons and cleans the house every day. She washes by hand with a scrub board in the bath tub. Since she hasn't a vacuum cleaner, she sweeps with a broom and scrubs the floors daily and waxes them once a week," says Mrs. Blackburn.

"Mamazan," "Papazan" and "Babyzan" are the names given the Blackburns by Mitzi. It is her way of saying madam, sirs and baby.

Mitzi sees to it that the table is set with clean linen every meal. The beds are also changed every day for the family.

Work uniforms of red and white stripe with white aprons and formal uniforms of black with a white apron and cap are furnished for the maid.

A gardener is also furnished for the Blackburns by the Army. He washes the front porch, steps and walks every morning besides taking care of the garden and yard.

Mrs. Blackburn says that living in Japan is no different than the U.S. except that she is now being waited on for nothing, since the help is paid by the government. The only work she has to do in the home is cooking.

Mrs. Blackburn is the former Dorothy Kennedy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Kennedy, Sheridan avenue. She was employed at the Veterans Information Service in Mansfield prior to her marriage to Lt. Blackburn.

For Wednesday, February 2

HIGH hopes hang in the balance, according to the critical sidereal aspects in which there may develop rather uncertain, unforeseen and irregular situations or crises, in which more than ordinary acumen and sound insight into curious conditions may be the deciding factor. Definite change of plans, associates or environs may be called for, and these in accordance with the wisdom, advice or capital of higher-ups. These may be found strange, unorthodox or difficult to deal with. Make decisions with a view or prospect of future change, even curious adventures.

For the Birthday

Those whose birthday it is may encounter a period to tax not only their sound judgment, reason and logic, as well as exceptional skill in meeting unforeseen, curious or unconventional circumstances, upsetting previous plans, tactics or associates. Radical change may be required to meet new factors, abrupt, strange and annoying. Erratic situations or personages may upset previous objectives. Ingenuity, rare skills, revolutionary ideas, might avert this. Make changes and take on new relationships with precaution, astutely.

A child born on this day has the prospect of sudden and curious developments in its life, with the unpredictable and unusual tending to undermine its own novel plans or aspirations.

Open Church Ceremony Held For Miss Haines, Mr. Hampton

PLYMOUTH—The First Methodist church of Plymouth was the setting for a lovely open church wedding Jan. 23 at three-thirty o'clock, when Miss Phyllis Ramelle Haines, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Everett P Haines of Coshocton, became the bride of Robert Eugene Hampton, son of Mr and Mrs. R. T. Hampton of Plymouth

Rev. Everett R Haines, the bride's father, performed the impressive double ring ceremony, before the altar, which was lighted with two seven-branched candelabra and decorated with two beauty baskets of cala lilies, white snapdragons and palms, and lighted candles were placed in each window. The pews were marked with white satin ribbon bows.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Edward Haines of Ravenna, wore a gown of white slipper satin fashioned with a fitted bodice and full skirt, a sweetheart neckline and long sleeves. Her finger-tip veil, which was edged in lace, was held in place with a beautiful tiara. Her only jewelry was a rhinestone necklace, a gift from the groom. Her bridal bouquet was a white orchid, tied with white satin streamers and greenery, and carried on a beautiful white Bible.

Following the ushers, who led the bridal party, were the two bridesmaids, Miss Mollie Dunn of New Haven, who wore a yellow satin dress and carried an arm bouquet of red roses, and Mrs. Bernard Van Loo, of Willard, whose gown was chartreuse satin and carried an arm bouquet of red roses

The matron of honor was Mrs Edward Haines, a sister-in-law of the bride, who wore a gown of orchid satin and carried an arm bouquet of red roses Little Patti Haines, as flower girl, wore a formal of deep pink taffeta trimmed in lace and carried a basket of mixed flowers.

John Hampton attended his brother as best man, and Larry Hampton, a brother of the groom and James Gullett, ushered.

Mrs Haines, mother of the bride, wore a black crepe dress trimmed in light blue with black accessories and a corsage of pink carnations Mrs Hampton, mother of the groom, wore a navy blue taffeta, trimmed in pink, and black accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

Following a reception in the church, one hundred guests were served refreshments in the church parlor in charge of the Bethany class.

The bridal table was covered with a lace cloth and decorated with lighted candles and vases of flowers.

At the serving table which was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake topped with wedding bells and love birds, where ice cream, cake, coffee, nuts and mints were served, Mrs William Reed, jr, and Mrs James Gullett, presided

Miss Dorla Gullett was hostess and presided at the guest book and received the gifts.

Following a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination, they will reside in their newly furnished home at 13 Portner street

Both Mr and Mrs Hampton are graduates of Plymouth high school, class of 1947 Mr Hampton has completed his course at the Office Training School of Columbus and is employed as a bookkeeper. Mrs Hampton has completed her course as a beautician and has been operating a beauty parlor in Coshocton., She will change her business to Plymouth.
